

BIG DEMOCRATIC SWEEP

Wilson and Marshall Win Great Democratic National Victory

GENERAL ELECTION RESULTS

Wilson and Marshall elected with from 390 to 400 electoral votes out of a total of 531. Roosevelt leads Taft. Maine, Connecticut, Wisconsin, California and other doubtful states go democratic—national house democratic, and possibly also the senate. Massachusetts re-elected Foss with David I. Walsh for lieutenant-governor. The Massachusetts legislature will have a small republican majority. Latest returns indicate that the entire democratic state ticket is elected. Congressional delegation, seven democrats and nine republicans—republican party led the progressive in Massachusetts but electoral vote goes to Wilson.

BOSTON, Nov. 6.—Massachusetts broke all political precedents yesterday and joined the triumphant Democratic National column, giving her 18 electoral votes to Woodrow Wilson.

She also elected for a third time her democratic governor, Eugene S. Foss, by a plurality of about 45,000, elected a democratic lieutenant-governor, David I. Walsh of Fitchburg, who defeated Lieut.-Gov. Robert Luce and increased the democratic congressional delegation.

President Taft was second in the presidential race and Joseph Walker, republican candidate for governor, led Charles S. Bird, progressive. The republican vote was apparently split almost in half between the progressives and the regular ticket.

In the avalanche of votes the democrats may have elected other candidates on their state ticket, but nothing definite could be learned regarding this.

The democrats have also increased their representation in the legislature and a number of Bull Moose candidates succeeded in getting by, but the exact political complexion of the new legislature is uncertain.

Several prominent republican legislative candidates went down in the crash. Roger Wolcott, son of the late Gov. Wolcott, candidate for the senate, and Talbot Aldrich, candidate for the house to succeed Wolcott, went among the defeated.

Progressives Show Strength

Both the Bull Moose candidates for president and governor showed surprising strength. Almost everybody

GOVERNOR WOODROW WILSON, PRESIDENT-ELECT

Gov. Foss Re-elected and Hon. David I. Walsh, the First Democrat to Be Elected Lieutenant Governor. John Jacob Rogers Defeated Humphrey O'Sullivan for Congress in the Fifth District

Representative Edward E. Fisher Defeated A. G. Walsh for Senator in the Seventh District, and Senator Barlow Defeated Henry J. Draper in the Eighth District. Representative Cuff Defeated by Rev. C. H. Williams. Representative Otis Butler Re-elected in the Fourteenth District.

NEW YORK, Nov. 6.—Overturning big republican majorities in states never before captured by the democrats in a presidential election, Gov. Woodrow Wilson was swept into office yesterday on the wave of a victory that carried with it state offices, congressional seats and the control of a number of legislatures that will have the opportunity to oust republicans from the United States senate and add to the democratic strength in that body.

Second only in interest to the overwhelming victory of Gov. Wilson and his running mate, Gov. Marshall of Indiana, was the strength shown by Col. Roosevelt in Illinois, Pennsylvania and other states. On returns received

With ideal weather conditions and a general interest prevailing the vote at the polls in this city yesterday was exceptionally large. It was a record breaker and while the democrats met with some local disappointments it was theirs to rejoice because of the splendid showing made in state and nation.

Woodrow Wilson was given the magnificent vote of 5439 as against 3783 for Roosevelt and 3034 for Taft.

Gov. Foss, too, was nobly supported and the democratic candidate for lieutenant governor, Hon. David I. Walsh, was given a handsome vote. The Foss plurality was 3291 and that of Walsh 2020.

The biggest disappointment met with by the democrats was the defeat of Humphrey O'Sullivan for congress. Mr. O'Sullivan polled more votes in the city than did his opponent, John Jacob Rogers, by 390 but Mr. Rogers proved too strong for him in the country towns included in the district.

All eyes were centred on the fifth congressional district fight. It was the liveliest campaign for years, and the enthusiasm of the campaigners seemed

A DANGEROUS BLAZE

What appeared to be a dangerous fire broke out in the basement of the furniture store at the corner of Allen and Hall streets, conducted by the P. Z. Hebert estate, at 10.40 o'clock this morning, but the blaze was extinguished before much damage was done.

The fire started in a pile of wood and debris near the furnace and when discovered huge volumes of smoke were pouring out of the cellar. An alarm from box 28 was sounded and the department was soon on the scene. The vast amount of smoke led the firemen to believe that there was a big blaze in progress and four lines of hose were laid but after further investigation it was found that there was more smoke than fire.

A Useless Run

A portion of the fire department was given a long run to the Boston road yesterday afternoon at 5.11 o'clock as as a result of a telephone alarm sent in to the central fire station. When the firemen arrived there was no sign of a fire.

Auto On Fire

The members of Engine 4 were called to Dana's garage in East Merrimack street about seven o'clock this morning to extinguish a fire which started in Fred Colburn's automobile. The backfiring of the engine was responsible for the trouble.

Yesterday morning at about the same time and same place the firemen were called to extinguish the same kind of a fire in the same machine.

WANTS FOUR CINCINNATI PLAYERS

Owner Murphy of Cubs Demands Quartet of Stars in Exchange for Tinker

CHICAGO, Nov. 6.—It is doubtful, pry them away from their present whether there is another athlete in the home.

Murphy has his reason for setting such a high price on the head of Tinker. His main idea of making a trade is to strengthen and not weaken the Cubs. He figures that Joe is worth four or five good men because of his playing ability, his knowledge of the game, aggressiveness, that will aid him as manager, and a few other things. Each of these in his mind is worth a good ball player. In other words, the Reds will get four or five things combined in one if they succeed in landing the Cub veteran.

The value of Tinker was made known when President Charles Welch Murphy of the Cubs announced what he considered a good trade whereby the Cub shortstop might attain the goal he is now striving for. The high cost of the Cincinnati to manage the red-legged team by the Rhine.

There are a few other good players in the National league, but Murphy says he will be satisfied if he can get the above athletes in exchange for Tinker. Poolan, of course, is the man wanted most of all, and Manager Evers said only a few days ago that he would swap Tinker even up for the Philly star. Apparently the Cub owner and recently installed manager do not like, but this will be cleared up as soon as Murphy gets a chance to talk with Evers upon the latter's return to town next week.

All Clover Men

The men sought by Murphy need no advertising. Hoblitzel guards the initial sack to a considerable extent for the Reds and ranks with the best in the circuit. Bescher is the left-footed "gent" who performs in left field for the Hermann gang, and while he isn't a terrific hitter, he can cover plenty of ground in the outfield and encounters little trouble in his many attempts to pilfer bags on unsuspecting backstops. Marsans, the Cuban, occupies the center garden and, like the other two, is considered one of the strongest members of the Red team.

As for Doolan, he is at present on the Philadelphia payroll, but Murphy expects the Red management to overcome that little obstacle. It is suggested that if Herrmann really wants Tinker for his manager he can go to the trouble of helping the Cubs fill the nest that they will have to weaken if the Reds are given the leader they seek.

Chances Are Slim

It might be safe to say that this trade has as much chance of going through as a river has to flowing two ways at once. In the first place, Manager Doolan of the Phillies has declared himself against the removal of Doolan, regardless of who is secured in trade. Of course, some unseen power might force the Quaker leader to change his mind in a hurry. Then again, Tinker informed Herrmann that he would not accept the management of the Reds if the team were broken up by trades. This caused Herrmann to say that Hoblitzel, Bescher, Marsans and a few others could not be considered, so Murphy will have to use a crowbar to pry them away from their present home.

Wants Bresnahan, Too

Murphy also admitted that he had negotiated with Roger Bresnahan with the idea of getting the "canned" Cardinal pilot on the Cub payroll. Bresnahan was given his outright release by the St. Louis owners at the time he was cut loose from his contract that still has four years to run at $16,000 per. This gave him the right to negotiate with any major club, but his settling away to the American league has been headed off by three National league clubs putting in a claim for him before the expiration of the ten-day limit, called for in the constitution.

The clubs now after Bresnahan are Chicago, Pittsburgh, and Brooklyn. Where Roger goes is up to himself, so he will probably select the club that comes through with the biggest offer. Brooklyn stands the best chance of the three, as the Dodgers are in need of a manager, and Bresnahan could hardly be improved upon. If President Roberts offers the Cardinal outcast a contract as leader and he accepts it will mean that Jim Sheppard, the Cub veteran who is seeking the job, will have to look elsewhere or remain in the ranks for another year at least. The 10 days in which clubs can put in a claim for Bresnahan expire Thursday.

Kills Two Children

OSAWATOMIE, Kan., Nov. 6.—Mrs. C. G. Perdue, her six-months-old daughter and five-year-old son were found burned to death Monday in a shed in the rear of their home.

The bodies were in a box, and it is believed that the woman saturated it with oil, climbed into it with the children and then applied a match. She left a note asking that all be buried in one grave.

Cina Barton's Will

WORCESTER, Nov. 6.—Written in lead pencil, the will of Miss Clara Barton, founder of the Red Cross, was filed in the probate court here yesterday.

LEGACY OF $1000

M. Nash, executor of the will of Geo. Tracy, finds that Mr. Tracy, in using the words "to my nephew, William D. Tracy, the sum of $1000 to be used as a part payment in the house of his daughter," had in mind a certain mortgage on a house, which in fact belonged to the wife instead of the daughter of the nephew, and intended that said sum should be applied to the part payment of said mortgage. The court decreed that the legacy of $1000 be used and applied as it would have been if the word wife had been written in the clause of the will in place of the word daughter.

The petition was brought against the residuary legatee under the will, William Tracy of Southbridge and Myron Tracy of Webster.

WIRELESS HERO OF SEA

Refused to Desert Sinking Vessel

NORFOLK, Va., Nov. 6.—Another hero of the sea was born. It developed yesterday, when the Norwegian steamer Noreaga and the Norwegian sailing ship Glenhit met in disastrous collision at sea last Friday.

The Noreaga arrived last night in a sinking condition in tow of the revenue cutter Onondaga, and is preparing to dock. The man in whose credit is given is the wireless operator of the Noreaga, who modestly declined to give his name and whose desire to avoid notoriety was respected by Capt. Hansen.

When the crew were for deserting the stricken vessel the operator refused to leave his post and continued to flash his appeals for help. He finally succeeded in raising both shore stations and vessels of the Atlantic fleet. The remains of the vessels were accomplished as they were about to founder.

The Noreaga will be repaired at the Newport News shipyard, where her eleven passengers, including eight women, and her freight will be transferred to the steamship Mexicana, which has been awaiting her arrival. The passengers were on board the Onondaga.

Woe to Backsliders

CENTRE VILLAGE, Conn., Nov. 6.—The first annual banquet of the Bald Head club is to be held today. The club has been in existence 10 years, so feels qualified to celebrate.

Action will be taken on the backsliding of certain members, who of late have begun to wear wigs.

SWIFT JUSTICE

George Bishop Convicted of Murder of Aged Brooklyn Woman Within Three Weeks of Crime

NEW YORK, Nov. 6.—A jury in Brooklyn convicted George Bishop, a negro chauffeur, of murder in the first degree, within less than three weeks from the time he killed Mrs. Margaret Bell, an octogenarian, by crashing her skull with a hammer.

On Friday Justice Crane will sentence Bishop to be electrocuted. The prisoner's wife was formerly a maid employed by Mrs. Bell. On Oct. 18 Bishop went to the Bell home and demanded $5 from the aged woman. His request was refused, he attacked her and she seriously injured a maid who interfered. He escaped, but was arrested a few hours later.

Freight Clerks Strike

WINNIPEG, Man., Nov. 6.—Fifteen hundred employees of the Canadian Pacific railway are on strike, demanding a raise in wages of from 15 to 20 per cent. The men who went out are expected principally of clerks in the freight department.

THE DEMOCRATIC PARTY

Carried Rhode Island for President

PROVIDENCE, R. I., Nov. 6.—The democratic party carried Rhode Island in yesterday's presidential election for the first time since the Civil war. The presidential vote: Wilson 30,197; Taft 17,062; Roosevelt 16,442.

Governor Dorr, republican, was re-elected for a fifth term over T. F. Green, democrat, and Alfred Hughes, progressive, by a reduced plurality.

The remainder of the republican state ticket was elected. Congressman O'Shaughnessy, democrat, was re-elected, and Peter G. Geary, democrat, was elected to congress. Ambrose Kennedy, republican, was named in the third district. Last year there were two republican and one democratic congressman.

Mayor Fletcher, republican, was defeated for a fourth term as mayor of Providence by J. H. Gaylor, democrat. The general assembly will be republican, although the democrats made some gains.

MAD SPRINTING

Feature of the Six Day Race Being Held at the Arena in Boston

BOSTON, Nov. 6.—The arena was crowded at midnight with thousands of cheering men and women, who half the time were on their feet yelling to the racing cyclists to continue the mad sprinting, which was breaking all records for a 10-hour team race.

Up to midnight the men were averaging 25 miles a lap to the hour and consequently were due to be many miles beyond the record when the session closed at 2 o'clock this morning. The crowd—fully 4500 persons—on hand at a late hour was the largest ever gathered at the second night of a six-day race in Boston.

Angelo Gardellini, the Italian champion, is beginning to show some class. Shortly before 10 o'clock last night his long and continuous sprinting evoked great applause, and the wildest cheering since the truck opened greeted him when he slowed down after his ride.

At midnight 12 teams remained tied for first place. Walthour and Collins continued two laps behind.

In the afternoon there were several sharp, snappy sprints, but they were not continued long enough to result in the lapping of any teams.

to inject new life into the country towns. Politics, in some corners of the district, had been dormant for years, and it seemed like a new awakening. It was well known, of course, that the district was quite substantially republican, and Mr. O'Sullivan, with characteristic energy and determination, sought to make inroads in the republican ranks. He made whirlwind tours of the district in an automobile, and never for a minute did Mr. Rogers lose sight of the fact that he had a big fight on his hands, and he, too, indulged in automobile campaigning. It was a good fight, and not once in all the speeches that he made did Mr. O'Sullivan say a word derogatory to his opponent.

Mr. Rogers' headquarters and never was the scene of a great demonstration last night when the figures showed that he was elected. The enthusiasm of the occasion was carried into Merrimack square and Merrimack street, and there was red fire and cheering galore. It was a happy, good-natured demonstration, and Mr. Rogers indulged in a period of handshaking that was strenuous to say the least.

Mr. Osgood was greatly disappointed at his loss in this city, receiving only 507 votes, while he received 4125 in the district.

Edward Fisher's defeat of Alonzo G. Walsh in the seventh senatorial district was certainly a great victory for the Westford man. The public has seen considerable of Mr. Fisher in public life and the public has set its seal of approval upon him.

The democrats suffered defeat, too, in the 19th representative district by the defeat of Thomas S. Cuff by Rev. Charles H. Williams.

In the defeat of Henry J. Draper, for senator in the 8th district, he was defeated by Erson B. Barlow by the narrow margin of eight votes and Mr. Draper filed papers today at the city hall asking for a recount.

Lowell's vote for councillor was as follows: Hogan, D., 6389; Simpson, R., 3890.

There was nothing very startling about the results of the representative contests.

Dennis A. Murphy was unopposed in the 15th district as was the case with Eugene B. Toomey in the 16th district.

Butler managed to succeed himself in the 14th district, where he had for his opponents Michael H. Brady, democrat and Cecil P. Dodge, progressive. Representatives Henry Achin, Jr., and Victor P. Jewett were re-elected in the 17th district where they were opposed by Joseph P. Whiteley and Joseph H. Jodoin, Jr., democrats.

The progressives or Bull Mooseers made a good showing in the election returns and their candidate for governor, Charles Sumner Bird, ran almost a tie with the republican candidate for governor, Hon. Joseph Walker.

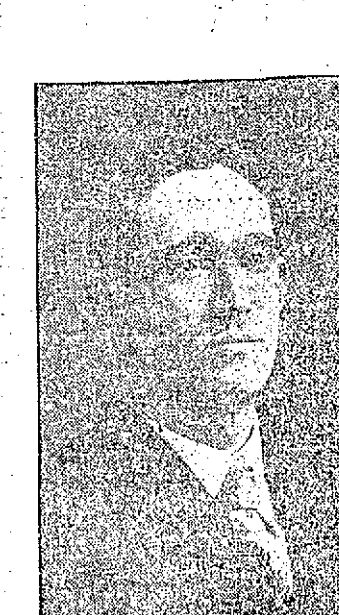

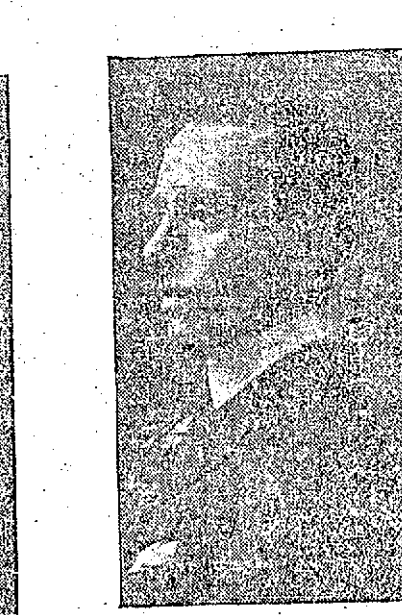

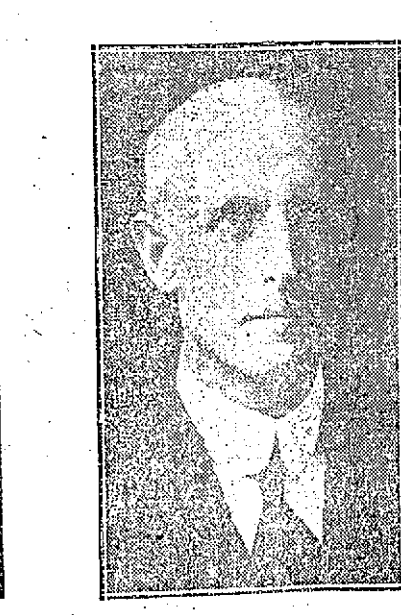

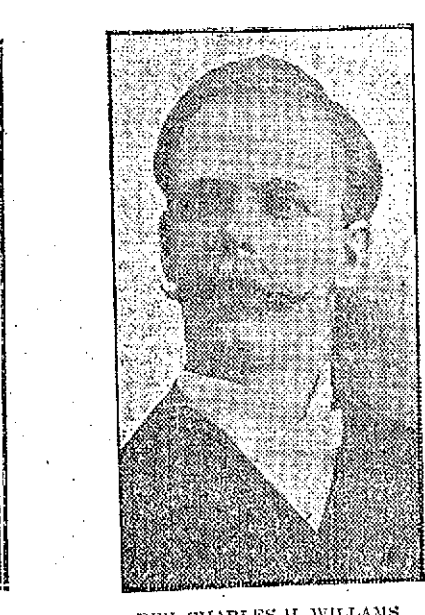

Daniel Cosgrove received 2165 votes in Lowell.

The total presidential vote polled by the prohibitionists, socialists and social labor parties in the city were as follows: Chafin, prohib., 63; Debs, soc., 170; Reimer, soc. labor, 19.

The vote of the city by wards with the summaries are appended:

SYSTEM BACK OF LIEUT. BECKER

It is Said That Many Have Been Asked to Contribute to Defense Fund

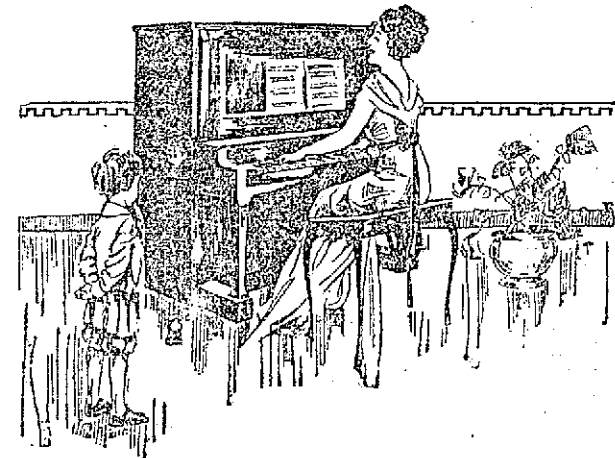

NEW YORK, Nov. 6.—Charles Becker, in his fight to escape the electric chair, is said to have obtained the formidable co-operation of the "System." This report, which became current yesterday, was strengthened by the fact that Louis J. Grant, who has acted as counsel for the rank and file of the police department for nearly 20 years, has been retained for Becker's appeal. The story is obtained from an authoritative source in that Becker was first expected by the "System" to fight his own battle. At his own expense he employed John F. McIntyre and John W. Hart, and they in turn brought Mr. Stryker and Mr. Whiteside into the case. Up to the time that Judge Gore charged the jury Becker is said to have regarded a disagreement as inevitable.

GOOD PIANO

Most pianos are sold on partial payments, 85 per cent. of them—and partial payments add quite a little to the cost. But in the RING PIANO CLUB IT IS DIFFERENT—instead of paying more than the usual all cash price, you pay less, and yet payments extend over a period of three years, and not a penny for interest or any sort of extras—so easy any body can afford to have one.

cluding the time when Beckers' case will be argued before the court of appeals," Mr. Grant said.

All Asked to Contribute
There was a report at police headquarters last night that practically all members of the department who were closely associated with Becker in the department had been asked to contribute to his defense. Those who were under his command in the "Strong Arm" squad were said to have been especially active in the movement. Before Becker went to Sing Sing, Grant had a conference with him. The prisoner spent far more time with Grant than the lawyers who conducted his defense during the trial. Grant was with him in the prisoners' pen while he was waiting through the long, dreary night for the verdict. While Grant was close beside him, Mr. McIntyre and Mr. Hart were elsewhere.

DEATHS

QUEBEC—George Quebec died Monday night in Sutton, Mass., aged 62 years. He was a former well known resident of this city and had only recently moved to Sutton. He leaves to mourn his loss his wife, Mary E., one daughter, Mrs. O. P. Robey of this city; four sons, George M., and Calvin E., of this city; Charles, of Brooklyn, N. Y., and Henry A., of Boston; two sisters, Mrs. Alice Manning of Center Barnstead, N. H., and Mrs. Caroline Doyle of Vermont. His body will be brought to this city for burial by Undertakers C. H. Molloy & Sons.

WOODS—Henry L. Woods, of 17 Queen street, died yesterday at the Chelmsford Street hospital, aged 71 years. His body was removed to the undertaking rooms of Undertaker George W. Healey, 79 Branch street.

STANDISH—James Henry Standish, an aged resident of Curdiss station, died suddenly yesterday morning at the home of his daughter, Mrs. William Butterworth, 111 and 113, his usual health and went out yesterday morning to chop wood in the yard. A missed search was made and his lifeless body found by his daughter in an outhouse. Medical Examiner Wallace of Concord was notified and will later view the body. He was about 70 years of age and was a great descendant of Captain Miles Standish, the famous leader of the Pilgrims.

THE GREEK RESERVISTS

A party of 125 Greek reservists of this city left Lowell yesterday afternoon for New York, where at 4 o'clock this afternoon they will board a Greek steamship for their home land. This brings the total number of Greeks who have left this city, to about 300, and a few more are expected to go before the week is over. The recruiting office in Dover street is the scene of daily gatherings of sons of Athens, who enroll for the voyage, and as soon as orders for new recruits are received, these people are notified and after a hurried preparation they leave the city.

Rev. Henry Nash Dead
CAMBRIDGE, Nov. 6.—Rev. Dr. Henry S. Nash, recognized by many theologians as the foremost New Testament scholar in the country, died at his home here today. He was professor of literature and interpretation of the New Testament at the Episcopal Theological school. Prof. Nash was born in Newark, O., in 1851. He was author of a number of religious works.

Pension Act Defeated
An act passed by the general court in the year 1912, entitled "An act relative to pensioning laborers in the employ of cities and towns," will not become operative in this city. It was defeated by the voters yesterday by a vote of 4178 in favor to 5707 against. The number of blanks cast was 3406.

PAINFUL INJURY

Samuel J. Parent, Driver of Lavery's Bakery Wagon, Had a Very Narrow Escape

The many friends of Mr. Sam J. Parent of Lakeview avenue, a driver for Lavery's bakery, will be pleased to learn that his condition has greatly improved since the accident which occurred to him a few days ago, when his wagon went over his right leg, and he lay near able to be out again, although walking with the aid of crutches. Mr. Parent attempted to climb on the wagon and missed his footing and fell to the pavement, one of the wheels of the heavy vehicle running over his right leg. He was removed to his home where an examination was conducted by a physician, but, fortunately there were no bones broken. The young man is out today, but it will be some time before he can resume his work.

MATRIMONIAL

At seven o'clock this morning Mr. Henry Marshall and Miss Marie Albee Roy were united in the bonds of matrimony, the ceremony being performed at a nuptial mass celebrated at St. Joseph's church, the officiating clergyman being Rev. A. L. Nolan, O. M. I. The bride was attended by her sister, Miss Anna Roy, while the best man was a brother of the groom, Mr. Arthur Marshall. After the ceremony the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Pierre Roy, 24 Melville street, where a dainty wedding breakfast was served. A reception will be held this evening at the same address and tomorrow the happy couple will leave on a honeymoon trip to Greenfield, the former home of the bridegroom. They will return to this city in three weeks, where they will make their home. Among the guests attending the wedding are Mr. and Mrs. Pierre Marcoulier, parents of the bridegroom, of Greenfield and many other relatives from the same place.

FUNERAL NOTICES

FUNERALS

BLANCHARD—The funeral of Frederick Blanchard took place Tuesday afternoon from his residence on the Nashua road, Tyngsboro. The services were conducted by Rev. Sarah A. Dixon, pastor of the Congregational church at Tyngsboro, assisted by Rev. J. Taylor Alton, pastor of the Congregational church at Tyngsboro. Appropriate selections were sung by a quartet composed of Mrs. Harry L. Littlehale, Miss Cora B. Littlehale, Rev. J. Taylor Alton and Charles F. Littlehale. The bearers were Messrs. Warren A. Charles, A. Leuben E. and W. G. Sherburne. Burial was in the family lot in the Sherburne cemetery at Tyngsboro. All funeral arrangements were in charge of Mr. Jesse B. Butterfield, under the direction of Undertaker George W. Healey.

SHATTUCK—The funeral of Sewell Shattuck was held yesterday afternoon from his home, 102 First street, and was well attended. Rev. F. A. MacDonald officiated at the house and also read the funeral service at the grave. The Mendelssohn quartet sang appropriate selections. There were many beautiful floral offerings, among which were the following: Large pillow inscribed "Father," from

NO MORE CONSTIPATION

IT'S ME FOR OLIVE TABLETS

That is the joyful cry of thousands since Dr. Edwards produced Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel. Dr. Edwards, a practicing physician for 17 years and Calomel's old-time enemy, discovered the formula for Olive Tablets while treating patients for chronic constipation and torpid livers. Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets do not contain calomel, but a healing, soothing laxative. No gripping is the "keynote" of these little sugar-coated tablets. They cleanse the bowels and liver to act normal. They never force them to unnatural action. Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are so easy to take that children do not regard them as "medicine" at all. If you have a "dark brown mouth" now and then—a bad breath—a dull, tired feeling—sick headache—torpid liver and constipated, sour and quick, sure and only pleasant results from one or two little Olive Tablets at bedtime. They're perfectly harmless. Thousands take one every night just to keep right. Try them. "Every little Olive Tablet has a movement all its own." 10c and 25c per box. NEW YORK, Nov. 6.—Moderate strength was shown by the stock market at today's opening with gains of a point or more in a number of the better known issues, particularly St. Paul, U. P., Canadian Pacific and Canadian. The sugar stocks were again decidedly weak and steel, which opened with a block of 2000 shares at a price practically unchanged from Monday's close was inclined to react as was also leadings. Dealings were fairly large but without the excitement usual to the day following a national election.
Prices turned soon after the opening and initial gains were charged to losses in many cases. Aside from further weakness in sugar issues, Steel, Reading, Lehigh Valley and Northern Pacific fell a point.
The results of the presidential election seem to have left Wall Street in some doubt, judging from the course of the market during the early hours of today's session. The opening prices showed marked advances in the speculative issues, thereby following the lead of London, but the first outburst was followed by heavy offerings, which soon wiped out most gains. Then came a renewed demand in smaller volume, which largely restored the earlier rise. Beet sugar, whose fortunes are linked with the tariff, added seven points to its recent decline, and American Sugar also fell. Money eased off to a per cent. Bonds were steady.
Elected issues such as Canadian Pacific, Union Pacific and Missouri Pacific were advanced sharply during the noon hour with some strength in the local transactions. Everywhere changes were slight.
A vigorous movement in the speculative leaders led by Union Pacific resulted in a further advance of prices later in the day. The entire list was then at its best.
The market closed strong. Speculation was buoyant in the final hour and best prices were established shortly before the close.

NEW YORK, Nov. 6.—Albert Vacca, of Dobbs Ferry, was arraigned before Police Justice Thornton in that village yesterday after he had held up Mrs. John Francis of Ardsley, in the outskirts of Dobbs Ferry.
Mrs. Francis was walking along a lonely road when a man leaped out from a clump of bushes and demanded her money. Mrs. Francis clung to the man as he struggled, desperately to shake her off. Her screams brought Policeman Eaton to the scene.

NATIONAL ELECTION
m. returns from a portion of the state gave Wilson a slight lead.
The race in New Hampshire was so close as to make predictions of the result impossible. Taft and Wilson ran neck and neck throughout the night as the count progressed, Taft's lead varying from 10 to something over 100 and with many districts yet to be counted the electoral vote remained at issue between the democratic and republican candidates.
The Roosevelt victory in Illinois showed signs of being greatly reduced as the "down state" precincts came in during the early morning hours. Reports from Chicago indicated that the big lead held by Col. Roosevelt late last night gained chiefly through his large majority in Chicago and Cook county was being steadily reduced by the vote from democratic districts in the state at large, particularly in the southern counties. No efforts were made during the night to compile the popular vote for the presidential candidate. In the majority of states, however, the record vote was larger than at any previous presidential election. Final returns on the actual number of ballots cast for the three candidates is expected to exceed all records.
The defeat of President Taft, the division of the republican vote between Taft and Roosevelt and the consequent division of republican organizations resulted in democratic victories in many states. In New York the democrats carried the state ticket and the legislature. In Illinois the democratic candidate for governor had apparently carried the state. Democratic senators appeared certain as successors to republicans from Colorado, New Jersey, Delaware, Montana and several other states.
A general increase in the socialist vote polled by Eugene V. Debs, the presidential candidate, was accompanied by setbacks to the local socialist organizations in two of their strongholds. In Wisconsin, Congressman Berger, the only socialist in the house of representatives was defeated with a number of other officeholders and in Schenectady, N. Y., where the party had elected a complete local ticket at the last election practically all of its candidates were defeated.
President-elect Wilson will have behind him a greatly strengthened majority in the national house of representatives and on the early returns the democrats apparently have a chance to secure control of the United States senate.
In Illinois the progressives and socialists hold the balance of power in the legislature which is to select two senators; in Colorado, where the democrats are to be chosen the democrats are in apparent control and in other states later returns may show a profit of the legislative power from republican to democratic hands.
Governor Wilson not only carried his own state, New Jersey, by a large majority but he carried also the states of his opponents, the state of his own running mate, Indiana, and the state of Col. Roosevelt's running mate, California.
Control of the legislature in New Jersey assures to the democrats the choice of Governor Wilson's successor in the gubernatorial chair and the choice of William Hughes as senator to succeed Senator Briggs, republican.
The changes in the doubtful states, according to late returns, gave Mr. Taft four more electoral votes from Idaho and Mr. Wilson an equal number of electoral votes from New Hampshire.
While the apparent Roosevelt pluralities reported last evening are diminishing in Iowa and Illinois, the situation in Pennsylvania still shows some uncertainty, but with very strong probabilities that the state has been carried for Roosevelt by a plurality approximately 20,000.
In Iowa late returns from one-third of the precincts of the state indicate a Wilson victory by about 10,000.
Minnesota is still doubtful but incomplete returns showed that Wilson was leading Roosevelt by 4676.
New Hampshire has moved from the list of doubtful states and will now give Wilson four more electoral votes. Returns from 270 out of 280 districts in the state give the successful democratic candidate a lead of 1570 votes over Taft. Idaho has gone to Taft by 8909 and the election of two republican senators is assured. This victory increases the total of Mr. Taft's electoral vote to 12, his other two states being Vermont and Utah, each with four electoral votes.
South Dakota was still uncertain at a late hour this morning. Returns from only half the precincts of the state had been received and these gave Roosevelt a lead over both Wilson and Taft.
The first definite returns from Wyoming in early estimates very generally conceded to the republicans showed that Wilson had a slight lead over Taft.

JIMMY MAHAN HAS FINE RECORD

Local Boxer Has Appeared in a Great Many "Battles"

Lowell has produced a number of boxers, and some of the ring artists from this city have performed all over the country, but one local young man, who while not actively engaged in the boxing game at the present time, has a ring record that compares favorably with the records of some of the best men in the ring today, is Jimmy Mahan, who retired from the ring as a boxer last year. He now occupies his time in training other ring aspirants, and though a young man, has assisted several of the big fellows in their training. Last winter he managed several local boys, and was responsible in a large measure for the success they attained. Mahan's record during the entire time that he was in the fighting game is as follows:

Field Runner and is Expected to Show Up Strong

Although Yale has many candidates for quarter back position, Cornish appears to be about the best Eli can boast of, and it is more than likely that he will be the Blues' first string man. He is a fast open field runner and a splendid runner.

BUSY NIGHT ON ALLEYS

Several Exciting Games Were Rolled

Several good games were rolled on the alleys last evening, despite the fact that it was election day. On the Crescent alleys the Calvary Baptist team took three points from the First Swedish M. E. team in the Baraca league series. Moody of the winners was high man with a three-string total of 200. In the game between the Trinitarian Congregational and the First Baptist teams, also of the Baraca league each team captured two points. The second string, was a tie and the Trinitarian quintet won the roll-off, and hence are the winners of the match.

On the N. Y. M. C. I. alleys the Invincibles took two points and the total from the Cubs. Griffiths of the Cubs captured the high single of 111, also the high three-string total of 289. Teams representing the Kimball system met on the Centralville alleys last night, and the quintet known as the Commercial Department won by a margin of 1 pin. The game was very close and interesting.

The Red Sox and Giants had at it on the Moody bridge alleys and the latter team won by the score of 1212 to 1121. T. Jodoin of the winners took the high single and also the high three string total. His best single was 100, and his total was 263.

BIG STADIUM

Plans Are Being Made to Have One Built on Franklin Field in the Near Future

BOSTON, Nov. 6.—Plans for a schoolboy stadium to be erected on Franklin Field will be submitted to Mayor Fitzgerald by the park commissioners within a few days. The proposal to establish the stadium in the Fenway has practically been abandoned, because of the litigation that would probably be necessary before work could be begun.

The commissioners yesterday held a conference with the mayor. The mayor said that the masters of both the high and Latin schools have complained that the boys have no place to practice or play football, and that much persuasion was required before permission to use Fenway park could be obtained.

The city council will be asked by the mayor at its next meeting to appropriate money for the construction of a horticultural building in the Fenway, on the site originally chosen for the stadium. The plants owned by the city are now housed at the Cottage street conservatories in Dorchester, and the mayor wishes to have them in an especially designed building, so that they may be placed on exhibition during the winter season.

"Next comes a heavy hitting outfield, and I guess I need go no further than the Boston club of 1912 to show you just what I mean. The outfield has got to be one of the most important cogs in a modern baseball machine, and if it isn't there strong then goodbye to pennant hopes."

"Offensively, of course, hitting is the most important feature, but of scarcely secondary importance is fast base running. McGraw's Giants realized the truth of this, and it is generally granted that their ability and daring on the bases have been their greatest asset throughout the past season."

Yale's Latest Hero
"Lefty" Flynn of Yale is the latest hero to rise in the world of sport, and the prophets are already predicting that he will attain the fame of a Cy before he is done with football. A huge, awkward looking lad, Flynn seemed very raw in every detail of his play against West Point recently, but no man ever impressed the observers on his first appearance as strongly as this giant ball.

"Pitching is always the thing that wins in a short series. This has been said before, but it is so true that it will bear repeating. You may also add this—no team ever has won a pennant without at least one star, aright pitcher. Look over the list in both leagues. There were Coombs and Bender with the Athletics, Mullin of Detroit, Brown of Chicago, Wood of Boston, Adams of Pittsburgh, Mathewson of New York and Ed Walsh of the Sox. In every pennant race of the last several years one or more pitcher have had to bear the brunt of the victory."

"Classifying the assets of a winning ball club in their order of merit, I should place an aright pitcher first. Second comes the catcher. A high class man behind the bat is absolutely necessary to a winning team, and for substantiation let me point out Thomas, Meyers, Kling, Sullivan and Carrigan, and, incidentally, Stange. All these men were of invaluable assistance in bringing the flags to their various clubs."

"SERVATOR" is a striking new style with an air of distinction. Gives plenty of room to show the tie. Preferred now by well-dressed men who favor the larger four-in-hands.

"EQUINOX," same collar one-fourth inch lower. Both made with the Patented "Lock-the-Loose" and "Easy-Tie-Slide" space. Of course they are

NEW YORK, Nov. 6.—Charles Ledoux of France, the bantamweight champion of the world by right of conquest, arrived in this country yesterday, seeking bouts with the best men of his class. He stands ready to meet all comers at the bantamweight limit of 115 pounds.

He made the journey expressly to meet Johnny Coulon, who has called himself the bantamweight champion of the world, and to settle the question once and for all. If Coulon is chary of entering the ring, "Kid" Williams, or any good bantamweight, will be met in town first, before a fight is served.

In France Ledoux is known as "Le Petit Sam Langford," and he believes his nickname in no particular. There are few little men in the athletic world who have the wonderful physique of the French boy. Less than five feet tall in his fighting shoes, he is a little giant. He has broad, sloping shoulders, covered with long, sinuous muscles that wrille and play under the skin at every move; he has a deep chest, heavy legs, sturdy loins and muscular, powerful arms.

An under chef in one of the Parisian hotels, he worked from early morning until 8 or 9 o'clock at night, and then, leaving the kitchen, would hurry into the ring. From the first his efforts met with success, and, as his manager dramatically expressed it, "Every fight it ces end in 10 knock-out. He ers meet everybody, but he ers win them all." His success encouraged the little fellow, and soon he forsook the pans and vats of the kitchen to become champion of all France first, and then champion of the world.

His title is clear. Jon Bowker, who won the championship from Frankie Neil when the little Californian was champion, was defeated by "Digger" Stunkley, and the latter in turn went down before the savage, relentless charges and terrific punches of Ledoux in the seventh round of what was to have been a 20-round battle at Dieppe, France, a few months ago.

Ledoux is a pleasing modest little fellow out of the arena, and said preferred to talk anything but boxing. He is an ardent Roosevelt man, and hopes that the Bull Moose will impale and toss all opposition at the polls.

Ledoux has been boxing for about four years, but during the first twelve months he took little real interest in the sport and stuck close to his work. "Hees one great man, and we hope he wins," said the little fellow.

STRONG LINE NEEDED

Most Important in Football This Year

There seems to be a race in football between the running attack and the open game, notably the forward pass. Under George Brooke, Swarthmore developed a running attack that was the undoing of Pennsylvania, while with the forward pass—a sequence of them, as a matter of fact—Williams worried Harvard and Lafayette annoyed Yale. There is some significance in the fact that when the first string backfield were returned to the game at Cambridge the defense against the forward pass improved rapidly and Williams could not get across the goal line.

Lehigh's victory over the Navy was of the utmost interest from the fact that from all accounts the strong Navy center trio was outplayed by the men from Bethlehem. Knickerbocker's team apparently did not suffer from the same stage fright that troubled them at Princeton, and the Navy undoubtedly was at its worst. All of which detracts not a whit from the credit that is due the Bethlehem eleven, which apparently is a good one. The problem all over the country seems to be the line which means that the opinion of most football men before the season opened, that the line was really the most important factor this year was well founded.

THE DAHLGREN DIVORCE NAVAL SUPPLY THEFT COL. TEDDY ROOSEVELT

Suit Will Be Heard in Secret

NEW YORK, Nov. 6.—The Dahlgren divorce suit is to be heard in secret referee's trial, the defendant, Eric B. Dahlgren, having consented to secrecy in the matter in order that the name of the other woman in the case need not be made public.

Though the other woman's identity has been zealously guarded, it is believed that she is a beautiful upper West Side resident and unmarried.

Mrs. Dahlgren is the daughter of the late Joseph Drexel, a former partner in the Drexel-Morgan banking firm, and from him she inherited several million dollars. Eric Dahlgren is the son of Rear-Admiral Dahlgren of Civil War fame, who made a large fortune by the invention of the Dahlgren gun.

Owing both to the prominence of the two concerned and to the hasty manner of serving the complaint last March, the document having been drawn in long hand by Judge W. M. F. O'Connell and filed before the ink was dry, the public has been awaiting a public trial with great curiosity.

The usual procedure in the case of the wealthy is for the two parties to the procedure to ask for the appointment of a referee to hear the case in private, but until yesterday Mr. Dahlgren has steadfastly refused to give his consent, and Mrs. Dahlgren has therefore had application granted for a trial by jury.

The Dahlgrens have eight children, who are now with their mother at the home place at 512 Madison avenue. Mrs. Dahlgren has asked for permanent custody of them all, and the case is to be heard Nov. 7.

Big Seizure is Made at Chicago

CHICAGO, Nov. 6.—A carload of naval supplies said by the police to have been stolen from the Mare Island navy yard at San Francisco, valued at about $15,000, was seized by federal authorities in the Chicago, Burlington & Quincy railroad yards near Hawthorne, Ill., yesterday.

The supplies were seized on a writ issued by United States Judge Kenesaw M. Landis. The car was billed to a smelting and refining company with a plant here.

Government investigators asserted that a band of thieves has been robbing United States naval yards of supplies aggregating several hundred thousand dollars. The government agents have been working for many months to discover shipments of stolen materials from several of the naval yards and it is believed further similar cases will be disclosed.

The carload seized here consisted of more than 50,000 pounds of copper and brass used in the construction of battleships.

The car was consigned to the smelting and refining company by a San Francisco agent.

MISS BATEMAN

To Lose Part of the $500,000 That Was Left to Her By Millionaire Winans Through a Ruling of Court

NEWPORT, Nov. 6.—Miss Dorothy Bateman of Newport, a young friend of Millionaire Rosa Winans, through whom she will receive a bequest of $500,000, is to lose part of the money left her through a ruling of the court by which the $500,000 left Mr. Winans' grandchildren is to be paid by a pro rata distribution of all money left legacies.

A counsel fee of $25,000 was allowed by the orphan's court yesterday to be divided between Maurice Leon, attorney for Prince de Bourn, guardian of the children, and the Baltimore law firm of Marbury, Gossell & Williams, this fee to be taken out of the $500,000 allowed the millionaire's grandchildren.

Thomas R. Winans, the son of the millionaire, who was cut off with a small part of the estate by the will of his father, is going to make a fight for a greater share.

Sent Congratulations to Gov. Wilson

OYSTER BAY, N. Y., Nov. 6.—Shortly before midnight last night Col. Roosevelt made the following statement:

"The American people by a great plurality have decided in favor of Mr. Wilson and the democratic party. Like all good citizens I accept the result with entire good humor and contentment. As for the progressive cause, I can only repeat what I have already said so many times: The fate of the leader for the time being is of little consequence, but the cause itself must in the end triumph, for its triumph is essential to the well-being of the American people."

About the same time he issued his statement, Col. Roosevelt sent the following telegram to Gov. Wilson:

"The American people by a great plurality have conferred upon you the highest honor in their gift. I congratulate you thereon. (Signed) 'Theodore Roosevelt.'"

Miscellaneous Shower

A miscellaneous shower was given last night at the home of Miss Margaret Flynn, 169 Concord street, in honor of Miss Minnie Murphy, who is soon to become the bride of Michael Grady, a popular member of the South End baseball team.

During the evening an entertainment consisting of the following numbers was given: Piano solos by Miss Margaret Fitzgerald, Miss Katie Warrick and Miss Margaret Grogan; songs by Miss Maud Craven, Miss Nellie Flynn, Misses Elizabeth Shea and Mrs. Fred Lyons; recitations by Miss Mary Harold and a stump speech by Miss Flora Craven.

Refreshments were served and the guests departed at a late hour wishing the bride-to-be happiness and good luck.

102 Years Old

POTTSVILLE, Pa., Nov. 6.—Anthony Redelberger, 102 years old, yesterday cast his 29th ballot for a president of the United States. He was taken to the polling place in an automobile, and helped into the booth where he voted a straight democratic ticket. He stood erect without a cane to be photographed, and regretfully said that it would be the last time he would vote.

A SURE, QUICK COLD CURE—ACTS GENTLY

Pape's Cold Compound cures colds in a few hours

The most severe cold will be broken and all griping mucus ended after taking a dose of Pape's Cold Compound every two hours until three consecutive doses are taken.

You will distinctly feel all the disagreeable symptoms leaving after the very first dose.

The most miserable headache, dizziness, sneezing, running of the nose, sore throat, nasal catarrh, discharges, soreness, stiffness, rheumatism pains and other distress vanishes.

Take this wonderful Compound as directed, with the knowledge that there is nothing else in the world, which will cure your cold or end griping misery as promptly and without any other assistance or bad after-effects as a 25-cent package of Pape's Cold Compound, which any druggist can supply—contains no quinine, belongs in every home—accepts no substitute. Tastes nice—acts gently.

GIRL WAS ASSAULTED

Because She Refused to Strike

BOSTON, Nov. 6.—The first serious results of the industrial warfare which is being waged at the factory of Ullian Levin & Kiron, 41 Essex street, took place yesterday.

Kathleen Reese, who has refused to join the strikers, was set upon as she was leaving the factory door. Her hat was pulled off and she was pushed and struck. The girl attempted to escape, and her retreat was cut off by men alleged to be connected with the Garment Workers' union.

She became hysterical and tottered out a nearby doorway, where the police came to her rescue. Yesterday the police were looking for her, and she was one of the local unions, who is said to have encouraged the assault.

Two men, giving the names of Sam Rosenthal and Bernard Fischer, were arrested on the Washington street bridge, near Castle street, yesterday, by Special Officer Henderson, charged with assault upon two of the factory employees while they were escorting girl strikers to their homes. Employees claiming to have been assaulted yesterday are Harry Ullian, Aaron Ullian, Benjamin Goodman, Wolf Bloom and James C. Hiron, the traveling salesman of the firm.

Harry Ullian declared yesterday that his firm refused to sign the union contract and that this precipitated the strike. He claims that there is no discrimination against union workers, that the pay is higher than in other garment factories and that the strikers will lose, as they have not succeeded in calling out any of the workers during the past four weeks.

Women Workers in Utah

SALT LAKE CITY, Utah, Nov. 6.—That the women's vote would have an important bearing on the result in the state was indicated by the general activity of the women here yesterday. Women have voted in Utah since statehood, right of suffrage having been written in the constitution.

Women judges of election and half-dozen or more workers for each party at each district indicated this year a greater influence than ever in the past. The percentage of women voters in Utah has in the past been about 20 per cent, but this may be increased this year.

COL. ROOSEVELT

Boasts That He Has Wrecked the Republican Party—Says Progressives Will Control National Committee

NEW YORK, Nov. 6.—Theodore Roosevelt telephoned to friends in the Union league last night stating that he had practically annihilated the republican party, and the progressive party would be the party of the future and he in control of the national committee in 1913.

Also Colonel Roosevelt stated in the message that the progressives would be in control in New York state and would control the state convention of 1914.

NEW YORK'S BIG VOTE

Sulzer is Governor and House Democratic

NEW YORK, Nov. 6.—New York state cast its 45 electoral votes for Gov. Woodrow Wilson for president. Congressman William Sulzer was elected governor.

At 10 o'clock only about two-thirds of the up-state districts and about half of the city districts had been counted. Upon these returns republican Chairman Barnes conceded that Gov. Wilson had carried the state by about 100,000, while Democratic State Chairman Palmer claimed that Wilson would have a plurality of 250,000.

Gov.-elect Sulzer sent telegrams to Govs. Wilson and Marshall, the heads of the national ticket, extending best wishes and sincere congratulations. Commenting upon the result in the state, Mr. Sulzer said:

"This is a victory for the people and good government. Of course I am grateful, but I realize the responsibility entailed and now I want to see the democrats make good. The opportunity is theirs."

Up-state sent in the first returns and these quickly indicated that in republicans throughout Wilson was leading, while the first returns from New York city showed a big plurality for him below the Bronx.

The city of New York with 37 election districts missing, gives the following vote for president: Wilson, 205,235; Taft, 123,482; Roosevelt, 184,316.

Returns from 275 election districts outside of New York state, give: Taft, 244,081; Wilson, 260,071; Roosevelt, 155,049.

The same districts in 1908 gave Taft 430,111, Bryan, 294,763.

Returns from 1025 election districts out of 1730 in the city of New York give Sulzer, dem., 173,827; Hedges, rep., 42,980; Straus, prog., 95221.

Returns for governor from 1334 election districts out of 3033 in New York state outside of New York city, give: Hedges, rep., 148,492; Sulzer, dem., 157,373; Straus, prog., 94,123.

The same districts in 1910 gave Stimson, rep., 190,306; Dix, dem., 184,130.

The Borough of Richmond, complete gives Wilson 3443; Taft, 3036; Roosevelt, 3741.

In the 26th congressional district Edmund Platt, rep., is elected.

Early returns indicated almost to a certainty the election of a democratic majority in the lower house probably will be very large. That in the senate doubtless will be increased over the working majority of eight by which the democrats have controlled the upper house during the last two years.

With the democrats holding the speaker's hand in the assembly there is likely to be a spirited contest for the speakership. The candidate most likely to win is Alfred E. Smith of the 2d New York district, democratic floor leader for the next two years.

The restoration of the assembly to democratic control appears on the early returns to have been accomplished by the overturning of republican strongholds, particularly in counties where the bull moose party drew strength from the republican, splitting the latter party's vote almost in two. This applies also to the senatorial contests.

The political division of the present legislature is: Senate—democrats, 23; republicans, 21; independence league, 1; total, 51; democratic majority, 23.

A NOVEL PLAN

Of One-Room Schoolhouses Adopted by the Educational Officials in Illinois—Vigorous Campaign Waged

Labeling country schoolhouses so that every citizen may know whether his school is up to the standard is the device of the Illinois state school authorities, according to information received at the United States bureau of education.

The schools are inspected as to grounds, buildings, furnishings, heating, ventilation, library, water supply, sanitation and qualifications of a good teacher. If the essentials of a good school are found present a diploma is granted. The district and a plate is placed above the door of the schoolhouse designating it as a "Standard School." Upon fulfillment of certain further requirements a higher diploma will be issued and the plate will read "Superior School."

Already 657 of the 10,532 one-room schoolhouses in Illinois have earned the right to be called standard schools and to display the plate accordingly.

This interesting device is part of a vigorous campaign waged by the state of Illinois in behalf of rural schools. Two experts on rural education, U. J.

Hoffman and W. S. Booth, under the direction of Hon. F. G. Blair, state superintendent of public instruction, are devoting their entire time to the country and village schools.

Illinois does not merely ask that the schools be brought up to standard; the state tells how it can be done. In a bulletin sent to every teacher in the state the requirements for a standard school are set forth. Among the specifications are: An ample playground; good approaches to the school; convenient fuel houses; the buildings, sound, in good repair, and painted; improved heating arrangements—a jacketed stove in the corner of the room instead of an unprotected stove in the center; floor and interior of the building clean and dry; suitable desks for children of all ages properly placed; a good collection of juvenile books, maps and dictionaries; a sanitary water supply; the school well organized with regular attendance and at least seven months' schooling every year; the teacher must have not less than a high-school education, receive a salary of at least $300 per annum, and be ranked by the country superintendent as a good or superior teacher.

The more ambitious districts, aspiring to the "superior" diploma, will have to meet the following additional requirements: A playground of at least one-half an acre, level, covered with good grass, and provided with trees and shrubs; sanitary drinking fountains; separate cloak rooms for boys and girls; room lighted from one side or from one side and rear; adjustable windows fitted with good shades; heat provided by basement or room furnace, with proper arrangements for removal of bad air and admission of pure air; at least eighty library books, ten suitable for each grade; two good pictures on the wall; provision for instruction in agriculture, manual training and domestic arts; the teacher to be a high-school graduate with normal-school training and to receive at least $450 per annum.

THE GREAT DEMOCRATIC VICTORY

n Massachusetts Became More Apparent With Additional and Revised Returns

BOSTON, Nov. 6.—The magnitude of the democratic victory in Massachusetts yesterday for the leaders of the national and state tickets became more apparent today with additional and revised returns. Returns from 1073 out of 1102 voting precincts gave for president: Wilson, 155,264; Taft, 146,433; Roosevelt, 131,731.

The same precincts gave for governor: Foss, dem., 136,213; Walker, rep., 135,502; Bird, prog., 119,099.

The Massachusetts delegation to the over branch of congress in 1912 will stand: Nine republicans and seven democrats. This is a net republican loss of one and a net gain of two for the democrats.

The republicans retained control of the state legislature gaining one seat in the senate and losing 13 seats in the house on a strict party alignment. On a joint ballot, however, the republicans will have a majority of 42, sufficient to elect a party successor to United States Senator Crane. The house will stand: Republicans, 134; democrats, 50; independent republican, 4; progressives, 6; democrat-republicans, 4; independent, 1; progressive republicans, 3; republican-progressive, 1; socialist, 1.

The Massachusetts congressmen elected are:

First district—Allen Treadway, republican.

Second district—F. H. Gillette, republican.

Third district—William Wilder, republican.

Fourth district—Samuel Winslow, republican.

Fifth district—John J. Rogers, republican.

Sixth district—Augustus P. Gardner, republican.

Seventh district—Michael Phelan, democrat.

Eighth district—S. S. Dietrick, democrat.

Ninth district—E. W. Roberts, republican.

Tenth district—W. F. Murray, democrat.

Eleventh district—Andrew J. Peters, democrat.

Twelfth district—James M. Curley, democrat.

Thirteenth district—John W. Weeks, republican.

Fourteenth district—Edward Gilmore, democrat.

Fifteenth district—Wm. D. Greene, republican.

Sixteenth district—Thos. C. Thacher, democrat.

OFFICERS WERE CHOSEN

By A. G. Pollard Mutual Benefit Association

The meeting hall of the Middlesex Women's club was last night the scene of a pretty gathering, the occasion being the observance of the ninth anniversary of the A. G. Pollard Mutual Benefit Association.

The affair was in the form of a business meeting, followed by a dainty banquet and a theatre party at Keith's theatre. The members of the firm were special guests at the banquet and theatre and Mr. A. G. Pollard showed his appreciation of the association by presenting a $100 check for its sinking fund.

A feature of the business meeting was the election of officers for the ensuing year and the report of the president, which showed that the association is in good financial condition.

At the closing of the store the members of the association numbering 157, and their invited guests, gathered in the quarters of the Middlesex Women's club, which had been provided gratis by the president of the club, Mrs. A. G. Pollard. The election of officers resulted as follows:

Richards, president; Arthur Leveille, vice president; Justin Kimball, treasurer; Raoul H. Monier, secretary; Edouard Desrosiers, collector; Fred A. Dubois and Louise Gervais, auditors.

After transacting considerable business concerning the association, the members took place around the festive board and partook of a dainty meal. This was followed by an entertainment program, including speeches by several members.

Past President Pearl Kenney acted as toastmaster and in his opening remarks he reviewed the work of the association since its inception nine years ago and paid a tribute to the investigator of the organization. He showed what the association is doing for its members by giving figures, showing that over $2500 have been paid in sick benefits since the organization was formed and for the present year $148.50 had been distributed to the sick members. These amounts were paid out of the $6400 collected at 10 cents per week from each member, and there is still a sinking fund of $648.26.

The toastmaster then complimented the new board of officers and extended his best wishes, and introduced Mr. A. G. Pollard, who at the outset announced that he would give his check for $100, the said amount to be added to the sinking fund. The gift was greeted with prolonged applause and cheers. The speaker then told in behalf of Mrs. Pollard, who is in New York, that through her efforts the Middlesex Women's club had decided not to make any charges for the use of the hall and this announcement was also well received. Mr. Pollard in brief remarks then told his employees how he was pleased with such an organization and encouraged them to work even more than they have done in the past for the success of the association and promised his support at any time it may be needed. Others who spoke were the new board of officers, who all pledged themselves to concentrate their efforts and work in the interest of their association.

Miss Irene Parthenals was the pianist during the entertainment and her selections were well received. Miss Hazel Chase was also very pleasing with her vocal selections and she was forced to respond to many encores. A vote of thanks was extended the former officers and the party proceeded to Keith's theatre, where they spent the rest of the evening. The house was beautifully decorated for the occasion and the program was very much enjoyed. The invited guests occupied a box, while the new board of officers were seated in another.

INSPECTOR MURTHA

Had to Battle for His Life

NEW YORK, November 6.—John J. Murtha showed that he hadn't forgotten his "patrolman days" when, last night, out on an apparently "easy" job (which, by the way, he could have entrusted to any of his subordinates), he ran into the stiffest fight of his life, and saved that life only by that old patrolman's experience.

With a half-crazy colored man slashing at his throat with a razor—after wounding another colored man so that the latter believed he was dying—Murtha managed to overpower the assailant, take the weapon from him and get him to a station house. The prisoner said he was Harry Mitchell, of No. 175 Lorimer street, and he was held to await the outcome of the injuries of his victim, Elijah Early, No. 92 Lorimer street.

Inspector Murtha wasn't looking for trouble. He merely wanted to arrest a man in Lorimer street suspected of selling cocaine. He was standing, clad as a tramp, outside a saloon in the neighborhood, when the two negroes came out. He saw one of them attack the other with a razor and he walked right into the melee.

Card of Thanks

The undersigned, take this means of expressing their heartfelt thanks to their many friends and neighbors for the expressions of sympathy, kindly acts and the many beautiful floral offerings, received during the final illness and at the time of the death of Mrs. Bridget Callahan.

Signed, William Callahan, John Callahan, James Callahan, Mrs. Mary Carney.

SCENE FROM "THE BUTTERFLY ON THE WHEEL" TO BE PRESENTED AT THE OPERA HOUSE, SATURDAY

AMUSEMENT NOTES

Lowell Opera House

"The Wall Street Girl," by Dubbing Blanche Ring and company was at the Opera House last night and, despite the many counter attractions, including the election returns, there was a large audience.

"The Wall Street Girl" is a very pleasing little play and those who saw it last night were delighted with it. Miss Ring has the brightest of the dialogue and sings the prettiest songs. She is quite charming of manner and she does not want for good support. Blanche is a bit of a tom-boy but she forgets her boyish pranks after meeting a six-footer from the west. He certainly looks good to Blanche and she says to herself, "I'll get you yet," and when a little chermer starts after a six-footer she generally lands him, at least that is what happened to Blanche. William P. Carleton was the westerner corralled by the erstwhile tom-boy and he is all right, too. Paul Porter, as the eccentric broker, figures prominently in the support of Miss Ring, but Blanche is the "big show" just the same. Her song hits included: "I Should Have Been Born a Boy," "Whistle It" and "Deedle-Dee-Dee."

ABORN GRAND OPERA CO.

The Aborn English Grand Opera company's performance on Friday, Nov. 8 at the Opera House will be occupied with Puccini's resplendently beautiful "Madam Butterfly," one of the greatest compositions of all times and, and considered by some of the foremost critics of the world to be the most perfect specimen of grand opera composition for it contains all of the technical and scientific qualities that commend it to musical students of the highest order, while it combines with its scholarly orchestration those elements of musical beauty which appeal to the average ear that is unschooled in music.

OUTBREAK IN IRELAND

Suffragette Threats Are Now Heard

LONDON, Nov. 6.—The suffrage movement suffered a setback in the house of commons yesterday, when an amendment providing for women suffrage, which it was desired to include in the Home Rule bill for Ireland, was defeated by 314 against 141 votes.

The suffragettes declare that they will retaliate by organizing outbreaks in Ireland.

As a protest against the rejection of the amendment suffragettes went on a rampage in Bond and Oxford streets. They smashed many windows. Two of the women were arrested.

"LITTLE BOY BLUE"

There will be considerable interest in the coming engagement of Henry W. Savage's production of the joyous operetta "Little Boy Blue" which will be seen at the Opera House, Tuesday, Nov. 12th, following long runs in New York and Boston. "Little Boy Blue" was so much of a success in New York city when played at the Lyric theatre, Nov. 12th, following long runs in New York and Boston. Seats for the Lowell engagement go on sale Thursday morning.

CONDITION IS CRITICAL

La Praik, Victim of a Peculiar Accident

ROCKLAND, Me., Nov. 6.—James La Praik of Camden and David Stewart of Worcester, Mass., are at Knox hospital today, victims of a peculiar accident. La Praik has concussion of the brain and his condition is regarded as extremely critical.

La Praik and Stewart were on their way to Camden, which the former desired to reach in time to cast his vote, when their automobile skidded on a patch of ice and rolled over.

The automobiles turned turtle and was almost completely wrecked.

La Praik was planned beneath the wreckage and was unconscious when taken to Knox hospital. The cow was dehorned, but emerged from the accident in better condition than the two men.

La Praik is boss dyer at the Seabright woolen mill in Camden. Stewart, who is boss dyer in a Worcester mill, was visiting him at Camden.

NOMINATION PAPERS

Taken Out by More Candidates Today

Dr. J. B. O'Connor and Daniel T. Fitzgerald have both filed their nomination papers with the city clerk, the former for school commissioner while the latter is aspiring for alderman.

Aldermen James E. Donnelly and Geo. Brown, the present incumbents, whose terms expire this year, have also taken out their papers and are now busy securing the necessary signatures.

Mr. Abel R. Campbell has also secured the necessary papers for the school board.

Beginning this afternoon and until Saturday the registers of voters will hold daily and evening sessions. The hours will be from 1 to 3 and from 7 to 9, and all voters whose names are not on the voting list and who wish to vote for the city primaries may call at city hall this week and register.

The following permits were granted from the office of the superintendent of public buildings: A. T. Cates was given permission to erect a cottage 20x23 at 55 Thayer street at a cost of $1500.

The A. C. Wheelock estate took out a permit for the construction of a storage shed, 25x35, in the rear of 483 Central street, the cost to be $700.

A permit was granted James and Elizabeth Verchall for the erection of a cottage, estimated cost being $1000.

Alderman Brown reports that the sewer in Llewellyn street is nearly finished and that next week his men will start work on the Cross street sewer, which will be a large proposition.

Thus far this month nine cases of scarlet fever and ten of measles have been reported at the board of health's office.

St. Paul's M. E. Church

The H. W. H. club met Monday evening at the home of Mrs. Marquette, 33 May street, with 15 members present.

After the business was transacted music was enjoyed and refreshments were served by the hostess.

A rising vote of thanks was extended to Mrs. Marquette for the evening's entertainment.

The club adjourned to meet with Miss Grace Robinson, 5 Queen street, Dec. 2, 1912.

PRINCETON CELEBRATES

Great Rejoicing Over Wilson's Victory

PRINCETON, N. J., Nov. 6.—"President Wilson." Two years ago this town addressed Woodrow Wilson that was at the head of Princeton university. Today as crowds of students and townsfolk saluted the same man it was "President Wilson" again, but as the future president of the United States.

The president-elect slept peacefully through the morning hours. He left word not to be disturbed until he had a long sleep. He planned to get up at noon. Early in the day, however, Princeton began to celebrate the fact that its distinguished resident had been elected to the presidency of the nation.

Members of the faculty of Princeton and residents of the town flocked to congratulate the Wilson household. Mrs. Wilson and her three daughters, Miss Margaret, Miss Jessie and Miss Eleanor were busy receiving them.

Messages of congratulation came from everywhere. Telegrams from President Taft and former President Roosevelt were among those received.

Plans of the president-elect were not made for the future. After the whirl of congratulatory activity is over he probably will go to a health resort for a rest. In fact, he will spend a good deal of time in December preparing himself for the session of the New Jersey legislature, which begins Jan. 1, and then as governor of New Jersey which office he will retain almost up to the time of his inauguration, he will make a fight for the legislation which he was unable to obtain with a republican legislature.

DEMOCRATS MADE CLEAN SWEEP

Indications Are They Elected All Candidates on the State Ticket

BOSTON, Nov. 6.—A partial tabulation of the vote for the four minor offices on the state ticket in yesterday's election indicates a clean sweep by the democrats. The tabulation from 11 cities and 33 small towns, including Boston, comprising 387 out of 1102 election precincts gives:

For secretary of state—Donahue, dem., 72,897; Langtry, rep., 49,899; Wood, progressive, 29,558.

For treasurer—St. Coeur, dem., 63,149; Stevens, rep., 39,562; Keith, prog., 23,155.

Auditor—Curens, dem., 69,943; White, rep., 50,574; Lariviere, prog., 26,933.

Attorney general—Anderson, dem., 71,998; Swift, rep., 53,537; Newton, prog., 26,237.

Drunk Offenders

John Draddy, who was yesterday sentenced to three months in jail after being found guilty of drunkenness and appealed, appeared in court this morning and withdrew his appeal.

Carl Johnson, charged with drunkenness, was given a suspended sentence of four months in jail.

Naxaire Ripelle and Peter W. Martin were fined $6 each and two first offenders were fined $2 each.

Louis P. Caron was sentenced to two months in jail and appealed.

CLOTHING STORE ENTERED

Two Men Are Arrested on This Charge

The store of Abram Smith, shoe dealer, at 483 Middlesex street was broken into the night before last and several articles of clothing and $2 in money were stolen. The thieves gained an entrance through a cellar window and then made their way upstairs into the store. The break was reported to the police and yesterday Lieut. Maher and Patrolmen J. H. Clark and Drewett arrested John Markey and Manuel D. Limon on suspicion of making the break.

The defendants were arraigned before Judge Enright in police court this morning on complaints charging them with breaking and entering and the larceny of two pairs of shoes, three shirts, two neckties valued at $13 and $2 in money. Markey entered a plea of guilty, but Limon pleaded not guilty. The case was continued until Friday morning each being held under $500 bonds for their appearance on that day.

PARTY ENROLMENT

Hon. David I. Walsh made such a vigorous campaign against party enrolment as provided for in the Luce law that it is likely soon to be abolished as an unwarranted interference with the privacy which should be maintained in regard to the political affiliations of the individual voter. The time will come when the joint primary will be held without requiring any voter to declare his party preference. The only manner in which this can be done is that suggested by Mr. Walsh in which each voter would get the tickets of the several parties and then use the one he preferred, tearing up the others. Under that arrangement it would be impossible to determine one party from another except so far as they expressed themselves at public rallies or in conversation with their friends. We believe this in the long run would be a better arrangement than the present.

MOSELY COMMISSION REPORT

The Mosely commission sent from England to this country to study the industrial situation particularly in regard to the condition of working men has issued its report. Its conclusions as briefly outlined indicate that the commission finds the progress of American industries due to the superior intelligence and skill of the American workman. This conclusion is correct because it appears that an industry which secures the most skilled workmen or those which command the highest compensation can compete against the world without any tariff protection. This is demonstrated by the fact that the industries of this country which pay the highest wages have little or no protection and can defy competition from any other quarter of the globe. If the textile industries would reach this status they would probably see a new era of prosperity under which they would not need the protection which we believe to be an unnecessary adjunct of their existence at the present time.

TURKEY DRIVEN FROM EUROPE

It would seem that the Bulgarian forces are already battering down the forts that defend Constantinople. The series of battles by which the Bulgarian army made such rapid progress in taking one stronghold after another has few parallels in history. The carnage among the Turks is said to be astounding. Despatches state that in their panic they left 15,000 wounded men on the field. It appears that the Bulgarian artillery not only in range but in accuracy of aim is far superior to that of Turkey. In the utter defeat of the Turkish army there is an indirect inference as to the effectiveness of the German artillery as opposed to that of France. It is alleged that the Turkish army was trained by a German general and that the cannon used by the Turks was also of German make, while the Bulgarians used French guns and were trained by French artillery men. The Balkan allies have already signified to the great powers their ability to settle their own affairs with Turkey. They intend to secure autonomy for Macedonia and Albania and to drive the Turk completely from the continent of Europe leaving, however, to the great powers the question of settling the status of Constantinople. There is no unanimity among the great powers as to the plan of settlement between the Balkan allies and Turkey. France, Russia and Great Britain stand together upon what they believe should be done while Germany, Austria and Italy are on the other side with a different scheme as to an equitable settlement. It is probable, however, that the great powers will not offer any imperative objection to the wishes of the allies in controlling the territory they have gained by conquest or in driving Turkey out of Europe except so far as the city of Constantinople is concerned. The Balkan allies will hereafter constitute a new power in Europe and one which will have great weight in the councils of the nations. They have made it imperative upon geographers to change the map of Europe and place the Ottoman empire entirely in the Asiatic continent. That is a change over which all Christendom may well rejoice.

SCHOOL HYGIENE

Out in Minnesota the school children are required to answer a number of questions by the health inspector that to some may seem impertinent but that on the whole are entirely necessary. Among these are: Do you sleep with your bedroom window open at night? Do you eat breakfast every day? Do you drink tea or coffee? Have you a tooth brush? and various others. When children are required to answer these questions they very soon learn the reason why and by gradual steps they are led into the secrets of school hygiene. Some children, owing to the home arrangements as to meal time, have to jump from the table and run to school. If a child eats a hearty meal and enters school immediately he or she is not in a condition to study, for while the digestive process is actively going on in the stomach, the brain does not receive the supply of blood necessary for effective work. It would seem that school physicians might accomplish much good among children by teaching them the art of deep breathing. This could be done in the open air and the practice once acquired would prove very useful to the children if carried out not only during the remainder of their school years but in after life. Children should be instructed as to the healthfulness of sunshine and fresh air, the danger of darkness, dampness and unsanitary conditions. Cleanliness of course should be inculcated from the beginning as one of the fundamental essentials of good health. It seems that many school inspectors do not pay sufficient attention to this matter, and it should be the duty of teachers to see that their pupils come to school with clean hands and faces, or at least with some indication that the matter of cleanliness has not been neglected. Children may not have good clothes but that does not prevent them from keeping clean. Soap and water are cheap and a great many people seem to underestimate the value of their frequent applications.

SWEEPING DEMOCRATIC VICTORY

As we predicted yesterday the democratic national ticket has swept the country and Wilson and Marshall have been elected by a majority that will certainly leave Roosevelt and Taft but an insignificant minority in the electoral college. The people of the country are to be congratulated upon this splendid result because it means the bringing about of important and much needed reforms for the whole people. As we have already stated the prospect of a democratic victory did not disturb the business interests of the country in the slightest degree nor will the realization of that victory result in anything except the utmost confidence that President Wilson will remedy the abuses of the high tariff and many other evils resulting from republican misrule. The victory of Gov. Foss and Hon. David I. Walsh in Massachusetts is almost unprecedented. It is a tribute to the honesty and business ability of both men and we predict that the administration will justify the great confidence which the people have shown in them by the overwhelming vote. The democratic victory so far as Lowell is concerned is not such as to call for any great jubilation, the defeat of Humphrey O'Sullivan for congress, Henry J. Draper for senator and Thomas Cuff for representative being among the reverses for which the democrats of Lowell have but themselves to blame. The congressional fight was vigorously fought out on both sides, but certain well known defections in the democratic ranks evidently resulted in Mr. O'Sullivan's defeat. He made a gallant fight, however, and his vote throughout the district is one of which he may well feel proud. Mr. Rogers is certainly to be congratulated upon such a signal victory. It appears that in spite of democratic gains the state legislature will be republican by a slight majority, so that there is little or no hope of electing a democratic senator. Still, considering the victory from a national standpoint, it is one of the most important in a generation, and there is ample reason for rejoicing among all classes of people in the fact that in face of an impending crisis, the ship of state has been righted and started anew upon the course that will undoubtedly lead to the haven of prosperity.

Seen and Heard

"How easy it is to spoil a day! The thoughtless word of a cherished friend, The selfish act of a child at play, The strength of a will that will not bend; The slight of a comrade, the scorn of a foe, The smile that is full of bitter things— They all can tarnish its golden hour, And take the grace from its airy wings."

"Our characters are what we make them; our reputations rest altogether on the charity of our friends."

OLD LOVERS

Dim eyes peer out from golden encasements where Plumes frequently a strand of silver hair, Bright shines the sun and sweet the meadows spread, And fair the sky that smiles above her head.

There, by the stream where bend the willows low, We started life—and 'twas not long ago; Ah! then the sun seemed harbored in her eyes, Amid their blue and tear-swept mystic tears!

Her hands like soft magnolia petals were; Her breath like zephyrs half afraid to stir; Her lips with honey dropt; the jonquil's grace Was in her form, and love shone in her face.

She cried and trembled as I told her then I wanted her for wife (my sweet!) and when I kissed her and she kissed me, heaven seemed To lavish joys of paradise undreamed.

Heaven! They say we near it, for we're old; Her soft magnolia hand still wears the gold That pledged us through the paradise begun And knows no ending with the setting sun.

The violet depth has shadowed in her eye, The roses in her cheeks, perhaps a sigh Of mild regret has wilted, but her grace Of mind and soul illumine her dear face.

The meadows sweet and green turn brown and sere, Change and decay, life, death, spread everywhere, Save in the souls where sacredly is laid The echoes of a lover's serenade.

—John A. Moroso.

"Let no day pass without doing something just for your fellow being. Life thus spent must have a glorious noontide and glorified sunset."

"True bravery is shown by performing without witnesses what one might be capable of doing before all the world."

A deed was being drawn for a certain farmer to sign. All went smoothly until the law asked him his wife's name.

"O, yes, of course. My wife's name."

Very necessary, to be sure," said the farmer.

It was plain to be seen that he was not prepared to answer. The blood rushed to his face, he looked troubled, and finally turned his back and looked out of the window.

"What do you think of that?" he exclaimed, as he turned slowly around. "I simply cannot remember her name. You see, they used to call her Pat when she was a girl at home, and that was her name with me until two years after our marriage, when I began calling her 'Mother.' I could not tell you her name if it were a capital offense not to do so. Suppose it wouldn't do to call her 'Pat' in the deed?"

It would not do; so he hurried away, and in an hour came back with his wife's full name written on a slip of paper.

SUN ELECTION RETURNS

Viewed by Large Crowd in Merrimack Square

The Sun gave out the election returns last night under difficulties, using the office of the Lowell Construction Co. and the bulletin room in front of the new Sun building in Merrimack square.

Through the courtesy of Walter Howe, the A. O. U. and the Boston Mutual Life Insurance company, the Sun canvass was spread upon the Howe building and the stereopticon was located on the second floor of the new Sun building. The crowd that watched the returns on the Sun canvass was one of the largest ever seen in Merrimack square. At first the interest centered in the presidential contest and in the vote polled by the Taft and Roosevelt wings of the republican party, but later it shifted to that of governor of Massachusetts and then to the congressional contest. The result of this contest was uncertain until late in the night and even then all the returns had not been received but as Mr. Rogers was in the lead and only a few precincts, all republican, to be heard from. The returns, owing to the additional counting, due to the presence of a third party, were later than usual in coming in, but they were nearly all cleared up by eleven o'clock, although it was after midnight when the last returns from the precincts reached city hall.

NORTH CHELMSFORD

Thomas Walsh, aged 35 years, met with a very painful accident yesterday afternoon, while motoring in North Chelmsford. He was going with a friend on a shooting trip, both riding on a motorcycle, and after making room for a passing team, the machine ran into a swamp, and threw both riders to the ground with great force. Walsh was thrown violently against a stone with the cycle on top of him, with the result that his left leg was broken just above the ankle. The injured man was hurried to his home on the Groton road, where he received the necessary medical assistance.

The thieves who have been unending in the town during the past two weeks added another victim to their list Saturday night, when they paid a visit to Mr. Perry's hen coop, on the boulevard. "Mother's night" will be observed at the scout headquarters on the Groton road this evening when the boys will entertain the mothers of the district who are interested in the movement.

THE SCHOOL COMMITTEE

Fixed the Pay of Evening High Teachers

The members of the school board held a meeting last night and voted to fix the pay of the evening high school teachers at $1.50 per night, for the first year, and $2 per night for succeeding years, which is practically the same as in previous years.

The following opinion from the city solicitor relative to the claim of Edward Cawley against the city for coal furnished the school department, was read and signed by the members:

Lowell, Mass., Nov. 5, 1912.

To the School Board of the City of Lowell:

Gentlemen—Edward Cawley has brought suit against the city of Lowell to recover the balance which he claims to be due him, under contract made with the city of Lowell to furnish coal, for eight hundred and seventy-three dollars and one cent ($873.01), and for interest on said amount.

This coal was delivered to the school department under a general contract made with the city of Lowell, June 1st, 1910, under which contract, it was stipulated that a certain standard of coal should be furnished according to specifications mentioned in said contract; and it was further stipulated that analyses should be made of said coal from all parts of shipments.

The city solicitor has carefully gone into this situation, and examined all the data connected with the case, and is of the opinion that Mr. Cawley can recover for the amount of money which he claims to be due him, for the reason that while the coal in question was delivered in the month of June and July, 1910, yet there was never any analysis made of the coal until the following November, and that said analysis was not made in conformity with the recognized standard of making analyses.

The city solicitor, therefore, recommends that he be given authority to sign an agreement for judgment for the amount, with interest thereon, claimed by Mr. Cawley, and respectfully requests the approval of your board. The school department has received and used this coal, and in the judgment of the city solicitor, the same should be paid for.

I herewith send copy of this recommendation that you may place it on the files of your department.

Respectfully,
J. Joseph Hennessy,
City Solicitor.

Lowell, Mass., Nov. 5, 1912.

To J. Joseph Hennessy, City Solicitor of the City of Lowell.

The above recommendation is hereby approved by the school board of the city of Lowell.

(Signed)
School Board of the City of Lowell.

TRAGEDY OF THE SEA

Told By Finding of an Overturned Dory

BOSTON, Nov. 6.—The steam trawler Foam brought to port yesterday news of a sea tragedy disclosed by the finding in South channel of an overturned dory, tied to a fishing buoy. Captain Ralph Thomas of the Foam stated that the dory are no marks of identification other than the figures "14" painted on either side of the bow.

Circumstances seemed to indicate, he said, that the fisherman had been hauling or setting his trawl when a heavy sea caused his craft to turn turtle. The timber indicated the position of the dory on some fishing schooner, but no vessel now in port has lost a boat of that description.

ADMITS SETTING FIRE

In Which Three Lives Were Lost

ST. LOUIS, Mo., Nov. 6.—Miss Barbara Arnold, an 18-year-old nurse girl, was arrested yesterday and charged with having set fire last Friday night to the Berlin hotel in which three persons lost their lives. According to the police she confessed that she started the fire for the "love of excitement."

Her arrest followed the discovery of a fire in the Windemere hotel early yesterday. Her employer, Rev. W. J. Williamson, had moved his family and the girls to the Windemere after the Berlin hotel was destroyed.

The girl said, according to the police, that she fired the Berlin by scattering paper through the halls of the second and third floors and lighting them.

The girl later made a written confession in which she said her name was Barbara Gladys Arnold. She confessed that she started a fire in the Windemere by throwing a lighted towel over the transom of her room. The flame was extinguished by Mrs. Williamson, whose husband later called the police.

Finger Lacerated

Patrick Boyle, aged 17 years, residing at 70 Union street, sustained a laceration of the index finger of his right hand late yesterday afternoon while at work at the Engshaw Machine Co. The amputation was summoned and the young man was taken to the Windemere hospital, where he received treatment.

TEWKSBURY'S BIG VOTE. Largest in Town's History Cast Yesterday.

Election day brought out in Tewksbury what is perhaps the largest vote in the history of the town. There are 260 registered voters on the list and after the final counting, it was found that 211 ballots had been cast. People of the town consider that many exceptionally good showing and many attribute the large vote to the ideal state of the weather which characterized the day of election. The polls were open from 6 o'clock in the morning until 4 in the afternoon. The voting was steady and little or no excitement was manifested during the day. Although none of the candidates voted, the Tewksbury voters, nevertheless, they all had men out working for them in automobiles about the village. As was thought, in the presidential election, the town was thoroughly progressive and Roosevelt's vote more than doubled that of Taft, the former receiving 144 and the latter 76 votes, while Wilson was credited with 51. Rogers was a strong favorite in the congressional contest.

The members of the board of trade, together with a few invited guests have arranged to hold a supper and smoke talk in the town hall tomorrow night and a large number have signified their intention of attending. The affair is in charge of a supper committee of the members who will make all the arrangements. Dr. Larrabee, president of the board, has selected two able speakers for the evening, Mr. Hovey of Andover, who will relate reminiscences of the two days battle of Gettysburg of the Civil war, and a Greek professor, who will talk on the present war between Greece and Turkey. There will be music and a program of choice selections will be rendered.

The members of the 20th Century club are considering the changing of the date of the regular meetings from the third Wednesday of the month to some other day as the present meeting time conflicts with the Star Course of the Y. M. C. A. in Lowell, which several members of the club are desirous of attending. It is quite probable that Mr. Melvin Rogers, president of the 20th Century club, will bring the matter up at the next meeting.

The Ladies' Missionary society hold a regular meeting this morning at the home of Mrs. H. M. Billings. A paper describing a missionary trip abroad was read by one of the members and thoroughly enjoyed by all. Refreshments were served and a social hour concluded the meeting.

A harvest supper will be held on the evening of Wednesday, Nov. 13, under the auspices of the Ladies' Aid society of the Congregational church. The event will take place in the vestry of the church and will include a musical and literary entertainment.

The services at the Congregational church next Sunday will take place at the usual hours. In the morning at 10:30 there will be a prayer meeting on the sermon by Rev. Sarah Dixon, D.D. The evening service will be held at half past seven.

Rev. Thos. Langdale, who preceded Rev. Miss Dixon as pastor of the Congregational church, with his wife, passed through the village and spent a short time with friends. Rev. and Mrs. Langdale were on their way from Salem, Mass., where Mr. Langdale is now located, to Lowell.

The only excitement which Halloween furnished was the throwing of a head of cabbage through the postoffice window by a youngster who afterwards gave himself up. The matter was settled when the offender paid for the glass which was broken, the amount being $2.

Several men are now at work repairing the tracks on Main street of the Bay State Street Railway Co. The rails, which were loose are being tightened with new spikes and bolts.

People traveling from Salem, Peabody and other points on that line find it much better to leave the train at Tewksbury and journey by electric to Lowell. Many who wish to go directly to Merrimack square take this means.

Residents of the town report a very heavy frost on last Monday morning and in many places the milk was frozen. This is the first manifestation of the approaching cold weather. In spite of the departure of the summer, the lawns of the village in many cases retain their rich green color as though the frosts had no power to injure them.

The principal sport in the vicinity of the town at present is fox hunting and there are many who take this means of enjoying an outing. The hunters in every case employ hounds and there are some very valuable breeds of the latter about the village. Foxes seem to be quite numerous judging from the reports of those who have been in the woods, and several have reported success in the chase. Mr. Augustus Shedd brought in a fine specimen the other morning and said that he had wounded another. Many pheasants are seen, but must remain unharmed as they are protected by law. One man stated that he saw a flock of about 30 in an open field. These birds are causing the farmers in this district some little bother and are apt to cause considerable damage to crops unless measures are taken to prevent this.

The feature of this year's harvest is the large apple crop which many of the farmers enjoyed. Great quantities of the fruit are being shipped to Boston where the principal market is located.

Word has been received in the village by friends of Mrs. Emily Foster, who went last spring to visit her son in Alberta, Cal., that she is enjoying good health. Since leaving Tewksbury, Mrs. Foster has toured a large portion of the South.

The many friends of N. W. Scott, chief engineer at the State hospital, will be pleased to learn that he is well on the road to recovery from his recent severe illness.

Miss Theresa Small has returned to her home in Quincy after a short visit in Quincy.

Mr. Thomas Whitworth, who has been on a business trip to England and Antwerp, is expected to reach here on Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Rust have moved from the Chandler estate to a new house built by Mr. Pierce on Maine street.

Mr. and Mrs. John Small who have been the guests of Mr. and Mrs. James Everett, have returned to their home in Connecticut.

Mr. Augustus Shedd brought in a fine specimen the other morning and said that he had wounded another. Many pheasants are seen, but must remain unharmed as they are protected by law. One man stated that he saw a flock of about 30 in an open field. These birds are causing the farmers in this district some little bother and are apt to cause considerable damage to crops unless measures are taken to prevent this.

The feature of this year's harvest is the large apple crop which many of the farmers enjoyed. Great quantities of the fruit are being shipped to Boston where the principal market is located.

BIG DEMOCRATIC SWEEP

Wilson and Marshall Win Great Democratic National Victory

GENERAL ELECTION RESULTS

Wilson and Marshall elected with from 390 to 400 electoral votes out of a total of 531. Roosevelt leads Taft. Maine, Connecticut, Wisconsin, California and other doubtful states go democratic—national house democratic, and possibly also the senate. Massachusetts re-elected Foss with David I. Walsh for lieutenant-governor. The Massachusetts legislature will have a small republican majority. Latest returns indicate that the entire democratic state ticket is elected. Congressional delegation, seven democrats and nine republicans—republican party led the progressive in Massachusetts but electoral vote goes to Wilson.

BOSTON, Nov. 6.—Massachusetts broke all political precedents yesterday and joined the triumphant Democratic National column, giving her 18 electoral votes to Woodrow Wilson.

She also elected for a third time her democratic governor, Eugene A. Foss, by a plurality of about 45,000, elected a democratic lieutenant-governor, David I. Walsh of Fitchburg, who defeated Lieut.-Gov. Robert Luce and increased the democratic congressional delegation.

President Taft was second in the presidential race and Joseph Walker, republican candidate for governor, led Charles S. Bird, progressive. The republican vote was apparently split almost in half between the progressives and the regular ticket.

In the avalanche of votes the democrats may have elected other candidates on their state ticket, but nothing definite could be learned regarding this.

The democrats have also increased their representation in the legislature and a number of Bull Moose candidates succeeded in getting by, but the exact political complexion of the new legislature is uncertain.

Several prominent republican legislative candidates went down in the crash. Roger Wolcott, son of the late Gov. Wolcott, candidate for the senate, and Talbot Aldrich, candidate for the house to succeed Wolcott, were among the defeated.

Progressives Show Strength

Both the Bull Moose candidates for president and governor showed surprising strength. Almost everybody conceded before election that Roosevelt would split the republican vote of four years ago in two, but few looked for Bird to make the showing he did.

Gov. Foss' vote of last year fell from 214,887 to about 193,000 this year. Walker's vote dropped from Treadwell's 206,000 last year to about 144,000, while Bird, a new man leading the progressives, received 117,000, the largest ever given a third party candidate in this state for governor.

An examination of the returns show that Bird drew heavy from the democrats as well as from the republicans. Cosgrove, the Bull Moose candidate for lieutenant-governor, also got a good slice of the democratic vote.

All of the candidates received flattering votes in their home towns, especially Bird, Walpole giving him 548 to Foss' 131 and Walker's 93.

Towns which have never before gone democratic or against the republicans broke away from their moorings and voted either the democratic or Bull Moose tickets.

The Cape's decisive vote for Roosevelt shows that that section of the state is still insurgent. Hopedale, Ex-Gov. Draper's home town, remained in the Taft column, but 153 cast their vote for Roosevelt.

One lone democrat down at Gay Head voted for Wilson, while 184 voted for Col. Roosevelt and 20 for Taft. Senator Lodge's town, Nubant, went for Taft by a plurality of only seven votes.

Congressional Results

Roosevelt and Bird carried a surprisingly large number of towns, but Milbury, the home of Miss Della Torres, President Taft's aunt, gave the president 506 votes to Wilson's 170 and begrudgingly cast 70 for Col. Roosevelt. Haverhill went for Roosevelt strong, while Wilson carried most of the industrial cities.

The combined vote of Roosevelt and Taft in Boston exceeded that of Wilson, showing that many democrats voted for Taft and the colour, Wilson's Boston vote yesterday was only about 600 more than Bryan's four years ago.

The indications were at midnight that Treadwell had won over Morrissey in the 1st congressional district, Gillett in the 2d over McKee, Wilder over O'Connell in the 3d.

Winslow was running strong in the 4th against Thayer, and Rogers apparently defeated O'Sullivan in the 5th.

Congressman Gardner scored a great victory in the 6th, winning by a handsome plurality over Schofield and Nason, although Nason carried his home city, Haverhill, by a big vote.

Phelan won easily over Bennett in the 7th, Deltrick over Dallinger in the 8th, Roberts appeared safe in the 9th, while Congressman Murray in the 10th, Curley in the 11th and Peters in the 12th won in a walk.

The 13th looked like Weeks, the 14th was in doubt, while Congressman Greene had an easy time defeating Dr. John W. Coughlin, and Thacher beat Bullock in the 16th.

Legislative Contests

Returns up to midnight showed that three Bull Mooses had been elected to the house of representatives, Alfred N. Fessenden, in the 12th Middlesex; W. H. Wyman, in the 5th Plymouth, and Charles H. Webster, in the 4th Franklin.

Charles A. Dean of Wakefield, who has served longer than any other democrat in the legislature and is a candidate for speaker if the democrats control that branch, was re-elected.

Representatives Senary and Crane of Cambridge, the latter chairman of the Bull Moose legislative committee, were defeated in the 3d Middlesex district, the district sending Messrs. Brennan, Curley and Moran, democrats.

Brennan was re-elected.

Lombard Williams won his senatorial fight in the Brookline-Bedford district, this Bull Moose opponent was Rev. Geo. F. Peckin of Brookline.

GOVERNOR WOODROW WILSON, PRESIDENT-ELECT

Gov. Foss Re-elected and Hon. David I. Walsh, the First Democrat to Be Elected Lieutenant Governor. John Jacob Rogers Defeated Humphrey O'Sullivan for Congress In the Fifth District

Representative Edward E. Fisher Defeated A. G. Walsh for Senator In the Seventh District, and Senator Barlow Defeated Henry J. Draper In the Eighth District. Representative Cuff Defeated by Rev. C. H. Williams. Representative Otis Butler Re-elected In the Fourteenth District.

NEW YORK, Nov. 6.—Overturning big republican majorities in states never before captured by the democrats in a presidential election, Gov. Woodrow Wilson was swept into office yesterday on the wave of a victory that carried with it state offices, congressional seats and the control of a number of legislatures that will have the opportunity to oust republicans from the United States senate and add to the democratic strength in that body.

Second only in interest to the overwhelming victory of Gov. Wilson and his running mate, Gov. Marshall of Indiana, was the strength shown by Col. Roosevelt in Illinois, Pennsylvania and other states. On returns received up to 8 o'clock this morning from states where the result was reasonably certain it appeared that Gov. Wilson would have almost if not quite 300 of the 541 votes in the electoral college and that Col. Roosevelt would have nearly 100. President Taft had received eight votes, those of Vermont and Utah, while the 51 votes of Idaho, Iowa, Minnesota, New Hampshire, South Dakota and Wyoming remained in the doubtful class.

Between midnight and the receipt of fairly complete reports this morning there were many important changes in the results as earlier reported from closely contested states.

Based on returns from over half the state, the 38 votes from Pennsylvania were apparently certain for Roosevelt at 5 o'clock today. The race between Taft, Roosevelt and Wilson was almost an even affair until over 185,000 ballots had been counted. As precincts outside the large cities began to report Roosevelt and Wilson forged ahead and with something over half the vote counted Roosevelt this morning had a majority of over 20,000 with many strongholds yet to report.

Minnesota, conceded to Wilson at midnight, had slipped back to the doubtful column in the early morning hours when accessions to the Roosevelt strength reduced the democratic lead. Iowa, given to Roosevelt in the midnight returns, showed a strong reversal of term and at 8 a.

With ideal weather conditions and a general interest prevailing the vote at the polls in this city yesterday was exceptionally large. It was a record breaker and while the democrats met with some local disappointments it was theirs to rejoice because of the splendid showing made in state and nation.

Woodrow Wilson was given the magnificent vote of 5459 as against 2783 for Roosevelt and 2034 for Taft.

Gov. Foss, too, was nobly supported and the democratic candidate for lieutenant-governor, David I. Walsh, was given a handsome vote. The Foss plurality was 3291 and that of Walsh 2020.

The biggest disappointment met with by the democrats was the defeat of Humphrey O'Sullivan for congress. Mr. O'Sullivan polled more votes in the city than did his opponent, John Jacob Rogers, by 200 but Mr. Rogers proved too strong for him in the country towns included in the district.

All eyes were centered on the fifth congressional district fight. It was the liveliest campaign for years, and the enthusiasm of the campaigners seemed

CHAIRMAN M'COOMBS

Is Overwhelmed With Congratulations

NEW YORK, Nov. 6.—Chairman McCombs of the democratic national committee today dug himself out of a mass of congratulatory telegrams, and with a few friends took an automobile ride for a visit to President-elect Wilson at Princeton. McCombs had nothing to add to his statements of last night.

All was quiet at headquarters. National Committeeman Daniels of North Carolina, head of the publicity department, said that the chief credit for the sweeping victory of Gov. Wilson was due to the support of the press.

"For the first time in a generation," said Mr. Daniels, "a majority of the newspapers in America supported the democratic ticket."

WANTS FOUR CINCINNATI PLAYERS

Owner Murphy of Cubs Demands Quartet of Stars in Exchange for Tinker

CHICAGO, Nov. 6.—It is doubtful whether there is another athlete in the National League in a class with Joe Tinker. At least not when it comes to placing a price upon the ability of the veteran Cub shortstop whose one ambition just now is to chuck aside the old harness so that he can jump down to Cincinnati to manage the red-legged team by the Rhine.

The value of Tinker was made known when President Charles Welch Murphy of the Cubs announced what he considered a good trade whereby the Cub shortstop might attain the goal he is now striving for. The high cost of living isn't in it with Murphy's method of putting a value on talent. The west-side chief unflinchingly admitted that Bescher, Hoblitzell, Marrans and Doolan would be proper bait to prompt a trade of the popular actor-player.

There are a few other good players in the National League, but Murphy says he will be satisfied if he can get the same athletes in exchange for Tinker. Doolan, of course, is the man wanted most of all, and Manager Evers said only a few days ago that he would swap Tinker even up for the Philly star. Apparently the Cub owner and his recently installed manager do not jibe, but this will be cleared up as soon as Murphy gets a chance to talk with Evers upon the latter's return to town next week.

All Clever Men

The men sought by Murphy need no advertising. Hoblitzell guards the initial sack to a considerable extent for the Reds and ranks with the best in the circuit. Bescher is the fleet-footed "gent" who performs in left field for the Herrmann gang, and while he isn't a terrific hitter, he can cover plenty of ground in the outfield and encounter little trouble in his many attempts to puffer bogs on unsuspecting backstops. Marrans, the Cuban, occupies the center garden and, like the other two, is considered one of the strongest members of the Red team.

As for Doolan, he is at present on the Philadelphia payroll, but Murphy expects the Red management to overcome that little obstacle. It is suggested that if Herrmann really wants Tinker for his manager he can go to the trouble of helping the Cubs fill the post that they will have to weaken if the Reds are given the leader they seek.

Chances Are Slim

It might be safe to say that this trade has as much chance of going through as a river has to flowing two ways at once. In the first place, Manager Evers of the Phillys has declared himself against the removal of Doolan, regardless of who is secured in trade. Of course, some unseen power might force the Quaker leader to change his mind in a hurry. Then again, Tinker informed Herrmann that he would not accept the management of the Reds if the team were broken up by trades. This caused Herrmann to say that Hoblitzell, Bescher, Marrans and a few others could not be considered, so Murphy will have to use a crowbar to pry them away from their present home.

Murphy has his reason for setting such a high price on the head of Tinker. His main idea of making a trade is to strengthen and not weaken the Cubs. He figures that Joe is worth four or five good men because of his playing ability. His knowledge of the game, aggressiveness that will aid him as manager, and a few other things. Each of these in his mind is worth a good ball player. In other words, the Reds will get four or five things combined in one if they succeed in landing the Cub veteran.

Wants Bresnahan, Too

Murphy also admitted that he had negotiated with Roger Bresnahan with the idea of getting the "canned" Cardinal pilot on the Cub payroll. Bresnahan was given his outright release by the St. Louis owners at the time he was cut loose from his contract that still has four years to run at $10,000 per. This gave him the right to negotiate with any major club, but his getting away to the American League has been headed off by three National League clubs putting in a claim for him before the expiration of the ten-day limit, called for in the constitution.

The clubs now after Bresnahan are Chicago, Pittsburgh, and Brooklyn. Where Roger goes is up to himself, so he will probably select the club that comes through with the biggest offer. Brooklyn stands the best chance of the three, as the Dodgers are in need of a manager, and Bresnahan could hardly be improved upon. If President Elbertus offers the Cardinal outcast a contract as leader and he accepts it will mean that Jim Sheppard, the Cub veteran who is seeking the job, will have to look elsewhere or remain in the ranks for another year at least. The 30 days in which clubs can put in a claim for Bresnahan expire Thursday.

Kills Two Children

OSAWATOMIE, Kan., Nov. 6.—Mrs. C. G. Pardue, her six-months-old daughter and five-year-old son were found burned to death Monday in a shed in the rear of their home. The bodies were in a box, and it is believed that the woman saturated it with oil, climbed into it with the children and then applied a match. She had been ill in health.

She left a note asking that all be buried in one grave.

Clara Barton's Will

WORCESTER, Nov. 6.—Written in lead pencil, the will of Miss Clara Barton, founder of the Red Cross, was filed in the probate court here yesterday.

An estate valued at $20,000 is to be divided among relatives. Miss Barton named a committee to write her biography.

LEGACY OF $1000

Judge Chamberlain of the Probate Court Hands Down Decree in Webster Case

WEBSTER, Nov. 6.—Judge Frederick C. Chamberlain of the probate court acting on a petition in equity brought by Butler Bates and Clarence

M. Nash, executors of the will of Geo. Tracy, finds that Mr. Tracy, in using the words "to my nephew, William D. Ross, the sum of $1000 to be used as a part payment in the house of his daughter," had in mind a certain mortgage on a house, which in fact belonged to the wife instead of the daughter of the nephew, and intended that said sum should be applied to the part payment of said mortgage. The court decrees that the legacy of $1000 be used and applied as it would have been if the word wife had been written in the clause of the will in place of the word daughter.

The petition was brought against the residuary legatees under the will, William Tracy of Southbridge and Myron Tracy of Webster.

WIRELESS HERO OF SEA

Refused to Desert Sinking Vessel

NORFOLK, Va., Nov. 6.—Another hero of the sea was born. It developed yesterday, when the Norwegian steamer Norenga and the Norwegian sailing ship Glenelg met in disastrous collision at sea last Friday.

The Norenga arrived last night in a sinking condition in tow of the revenue cutter Onondaga, and is preparing to dock. The man to whom credit is given is the wireless operator of the Norenga, who modestly declined to give his name and whose desire to avoid notoriety was respected by Capt. Hansen.

When the crew were for deserting the stricken vessel the operator refused to leave his post and continued to flash his appeals for help. He finally succeeded in raising both shore stations and vessels of the Atlantic fleet. The rescue of the vessel was accomplished as they were about to founder.

The Norenga will be repaired at the Newport News shipyard, where her eleven passengers, including eight women, and her freight will be transferred to the steamship Mexicana, which has been awaiting her arrival. The passengers were on board the Onondaga.

Action will be taken on the backsliding of certain members, who of late have begun to wear wigs.

SWIFT JUSTICE

George Bishop Convicted of Murder of Aged Brooklyn Woman Within Three Weeks of Crime

NEW YORK, Nov. 6.—A jury in Brooklyn convicted George Bishop, a negro chauffeur, of murder in the first degree, within less than three weeks from the time he killed Mrs. Margaret Bell, an octogenarian, by crashing her skull with a hammer.

On Friday Justice Crane will sentence Bishop to be electrocuted. The prisoner's wife was formerly a maid employed by Mrs. Bell. On Oct. 18 Bishop went to the Bell home and demanded $5 from the aged woman.

His request was refused, he attacked her and also seriously injured a maid who interfered. He escaped, but was arrested a few hours later.

THE DEMOCRATIC PARTY

Carried Rhode Island for President

PROVIDENCE, R. I., Nov. 6.—The democratic party carried Rhode Island in yesterday's presidential election, for the first time since the Civil war. The presidential vote: Wilson 30,197; Taft 27,703; Roosevelt 16,442.

Governor Fitcher, republican, was re-elected for a fifth term over T. F. Green, democrat, and Alfred Hughes, progressive, by a reduced plurality. The remainder of the republican state ticket was elected.

Congressman O'Shaughnessy, democrat, was re-elected, and Peter G. Geary, democrat, was elected to congress. Ambrose Kennedy, republican, was named in the third district. Last year there were two republican and one democratic congressman.

Mayor Fletcher, republican, was defeated for a fourth term as mayor of Providence by J. H. Gaynor, democrat. The general assembly will be republican, although the democrats made some gains.

MAD SPRINTING

Feature Of The Six Day Race Being Held At The Arena In Boston

BOSTON, Nov. 6.—The arena was crowded at midnight with thousands of cheering men and women, who half the time were on their feet yelling to the racing cyclists to continue the mad sprinting, which was breaking all records for a 10-hour team race.

Up to midnight the men were averaging 41 miles 8 faps to the hour and consequently were due to be many miles beyond the record when the session closed at 2 o'clock this morning.

The crowd—fully 4500 persons—on hand at a late hour was the largest ever gathered at the second night of a six-day race in Boston.

Angelo Gardellini, the Italian champion, is beginning to show some class. Shortly before 10 o'clock last night his long and continuous sprinting evoked great applause, and the wildest cheering since the track opened greeted him when he slowed down after his ride.

At midnight 12 teams remained tied for first place. Walthour and Collins continued two laps behind.

In the afternoon there were several sharp, snappy sprints, but they were not continued long enough to result in the lapping of any teams.

to inject new life into the country towns. Politics, in some corners of the district, had been dormant for years, and it seemed like a new awakening. It was well known, of course, that the district was quite substantially republican, and Mr. O'Sullivan, with characteristic energy and determination, sought to make inroads in the republican ranks. He made whirlwind tours of the district in an automobile, and never for a minute did Mr. Rogers lose sight of the fact that he had a big fight on his hands, and he, too, indulged in automobile campaigning. It was a good fight, and not once in all the speeches that he made did Mr. O'Sullivan say a word derogatory to his opponent.

Mr. Rogers' headquarters and vicinity were the scene of a great demonstration last night when the figures showed that he was elected. The enthusiasm of the occasion was carried into Merrimack square and there was red fire and cheering galore. It was a happy, good-natured demonstration, and Mr. Rogers indulged in a period of handshaking that was strenuous to say the least.

Mr. Osgood was greatly disappointed at his vote in this city, receiving only 867 votes, while he received 4128 in the district.

Edward Fisher's defeat of Alonzo G. Walsh in the seventh senatorial district was certainly a great victory for the Westford man. The public has seen considerable of Mr. Fisher in public life and the public has set its seal of approval upon him.

The democratic suffered defeat, too, in the 13th representative district by the defeat of Thomas S. Cuff by Rev. Charles H. Williams of Billerica and in the defeat of Henry J. Draper for senator in the 8th district. He was defeated by Erson B. Barlow by the narrow margin of eight votes and Mr. Draper filed papers today at the city hall asking for a recount.

Lowell's vote for councillor was as follows: Hogan, D. 6380; Simpson, R. 3360.

There was nothing very startling about the results of the representative contests.

Dennis A. Murphy was unopposed in the 16th district as was the case with Eugene F. Toomey in the 16th district.

Otis W. Butler managed to succeed himself in the 11th district, where he had for his opponents Michael H. Brady, democrat and Cecil P. Dodge, progressive.

Representatives Henry Achin, Jr., and Victor F. Jewett were re-elected in the 17th district where they were opposed by Joseph F. Whiteley and Joseph H. Jodoin, Jr., democrats.

The progressives or Bull Mooseers made a good showing in the election returns and their candidate for governor, Charles Sumner Bird ran almost a tie race with the republican candidate for governor, Hon. Joseph Walker.

Daniel Cosgrove received 518 votes in Lowell.

The total presidential vote polled by the prohibitionists, socialists and social labor parties in the city were as follows: Chafin, prohib., 53; Debs, soc., 170; Peimer, soc. labor, 19.

The vote of the city by wards with the summaries are appended:

SYSTEM BACK OF LIEUT. BECKER

It is Said That Many Have Been Asked to Contribute to Defense Fund

NEW YORK, Nov. 5.—Charles Becker, in his fight to escape the electric chair, is said to have obtained the formidable co-operation of the "System." This report, which became current yesterday, was strengthened by the fact that Louis J. Grant, who has acted as counsel for the rank and file of the police department for nearly 30 years, has been retained for Becker's appeal. The story as obtained from an authoritative source is that Becker was first expected by the "System" to fight his own battle. At his own expense he employed John F. McIntyre and John W. Hart, and they in turn brought Mr. Stegler and Mr. Whiteside into the case.

Up to the time that Judge Coff charged the jury Becker is said to have regarded a disagreement as inevitable.

He was buoyed by the hope that the testimony of Rose, Webster, Vailan and Schepps would not be believed. As his demeanor in the courtroom indicated, he was supremely confident that the prosecution could not convict. During the trial Becker remained mute. When seen by newspapermen, either in the Tombs or seated beside his counsel in the courtroom, he spoke little, and always in the most non-committal way. He implicated no one else. He mentioned no names.

Drags Others Into Case

After the jury returned a verdict which confronted Becker with the death house he began to talk. Every day he said more. He began to drag others into the case. To confidants in the Tombs he even went so far as saying that he felt he had been made the victim of a situation for which he was not responsible and that he was thinking of telling everything and casting the blame where it belonged.

There is authoritative information that the John Doe proceedings before Justice Gott is gathering evidence which tends to show that others besides Becker in the police department knew that Rosenthal was to be put out of the way. These police officials are said to have shared with Becker in the spoils of the "System," all of which would have been exposed if Rosenthal went to see District Attorney Whitman on July 16.

Rosenthal was murdered at 2 a. m. of that same day and the "System," as well as Becker, was saved. Lawyer Grant admitted to a reporter last night that he has been retained, not by Becker himself, but by his friends, including members of the police department. He would not give the names of those who had raised the money, but he stated frankly that the money not only had been raised, but that he had received it already as his fee.

"I have been retained up to and including the time when Becker's case will be argued before the court of appeals," Mr. Grant said.

All Asked to Contribute

There was a report at police headquarters last night that practically all the members of the department who were closely associated with Becker in the department had been asked to contribute to his defense. Those who were under his command in the "Strong Arm" squad were said to have been especially active in the movement.

Before Becker went to Sing Sing Grant had a number of conferences with him. The prisoner spent far more time with Grant than the lawyers who conducted his defense during the trial. Grant was with him in the prison pen while he was waiting through the long, dreary night for the verdict. While Grant was close beside him, Mr. McIntyre and Mr. Hart were elsewhere.

DEATHS

QUEBEC—George Quebec died Monday night in Sutton, Mass., aged 63 years. He was a former well known resident of this city and had only recently moved to Sutton. He leaves to mourn his loss his wife, Mary E., one daughter, Mrs. J. J. Tobey of this city, four sons, George M. and Calvin E. of this city, Charles A. of Brooklyn, N. Y., and Henry A. of Boston, two sisters, Mrs. Alice Manning of Concord, N. H., and Mrs. Caroline Doyle of Vermont. His body will be brought to this city for burial by Undertakers C. H. Molloy & Sons.

WOODS—Henry R. Woods, of 17 Queen street, died yesterday at the Chelmsford Street hospital, aged 71 years. His body was removed to the undertaking rooms of Undertaker George W. Healey, 78 Branch street.

STANDISH—James Henry Standish, an aged resident of Canisla station, died suddenly yesterday morning at the home of his daughter, Mrs. William Butterworth. He had been in his usual health and went out yesterday morning to chop wood in the yard. Being missed, search was made and his lifeless body found by his daughter in an outhouse. Medical Examiner Walcott of Concord was notified and will later view the body. He was about 70 years of age and was a descendant of Captain Myles Standish, the famous leader of the Pilgrims.

THE GREEK RESERVISTS

A party of 125 Greek reservists of this city left Lowell yesterday afternoon for New York, where at 4 o'clock this afternoon they will board a Greek steamship for their mother land.

This brings the total number of Greeks who have left this city to about 500, and a few more are expected to go before the week is over. The recruiting office in Hanover street is the scene of daily gatherings of sons of Athens, who enroll for the voyage, and as soon as orders for new recruits are received, these people are notified and after a hurried preparation they leave the city.

Rev. Henry Nash Dead
CAMBRIDGE, Nov. 6.—Rev. Dr. Henry S. Nash, recognized by many theologians as the foremost New Testament scholar in the country, died at his home here today. He was professor of literature and interpretation of the New Testament at the Episcopal Theological school. Prof. Nash was born in Newark, O., in 1854. He was author of a number of religious works.

Pension Act Defeated
An act passed by the general court in the year 1912, which was relative to pensioning laborers in the employ of cities and towns, will not become operative in this city. It was defeated by the voters yesterday by a vote of 413 in favor to 570 against. The number of blanks cast was 3466.

PAINFUL INJURY

Samuel J. Parent, Driver of Livery's Bakery Wagon, Had a Very Narrow Escape

The many friends of Mr. Sam J. Parent of Lakeview avenue, a driver for Livery's bakery, will be pleased to learn that his condition has greatly improved since the accident which occurred to him a few days ago, when his wagon went over his right leg, and he is now able to be out again, although walking with the aid of crutches.

Mr. Parent attempted to climb on the wagon and missed his footing and fell to the pavement, one of the wheels of the heavy vehicle running over his right leg. He was removed to his home where an examination was conducted by a physician, but, fortunately there were no bones broken. The young man is out today, but it will be some time before he can resume his work.

MATRIMONIAL

At seven o'clock this morning Mr. Henri Marcouillier and Miss Marie Albina Roy were united in the bonds of matrimony, the ceremony being performed at a nuptial mass celebrated at St. Joseph's church, the officiating clergyman being Rev. A. L. Nolin, O. M. I. The bride was attended by her sister, Miss Alina Roy, who is a best man. Mr. Arthur Marcouillier, after the ceremony, the bride party repaired to the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Pierre Roy, 33 Melvin street, where a dainty wedding breakfast was served. A reception will be held this evening at the same address and to-morrow the happy couple will leave on a honeymoon trip to Greenfield, the former home of the bridegroom. They will return to this city in three weeks, where they will make their home. Among the guests attending the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. Thore Marcouillier, parents of the bridegroom, of Greenfield and many other relatives from the same place.

FUNERAL NOTICES

QUEBEC—The funeral of George M. Quebec will take place tomorrow afternoon from his late home, Sutton, Mass. The body will be brought to this city for burial and will arrive at 2:30 o'clock. Funeral will take place from the chapel of Undertakers C. H. Molloy & Sons.

CUMMINGS—Died, Nov. 3rd, in Chicago, Ill., Mrs. Caroline Cummings, aged 52 years. She is survived by her husband, George H. Cummings; two children, Mrs. Arthur W. Tryon and George H. Cummings, Jr.; and three grandchildren, Chester, George and Everett Cummings, all of this city. Funeral services will be held at 449 Dutton street, Thursday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. Friends are invited without further notice. Burial private. The funeral arrangements are in charge of Undertaker George W. Healey.

SULLIVAN—The funeral of the late Matthew Sullivan will take place Thursday morning from the funeral chapel of J. F. O'Donnell & Sons in Market street, at 8 o'clock. A large mass of requiem at St. Patrick's church at 8 o'clock. J. F. O'Donnell & Sons, undertakers.

FUNERALS

BLANCHARD—The funeral of Frederick Blanchard took place Tuesday afternoon from his residence on the Nashua road, Tyngsboro. The services were conducted by Rev. Sarah A. Dixon, pastor of the Congregational church at Tewksbury, assisted by Rev. J. Taylor Allen, pastor of the Congregational church at Tyngsboro. Appropriate selections were sung by a quartet composed of Mrs. Harry L. Melville, Miss Cora B. Littlefield, Rev. J. Taylor Allen and Charles P. Littlefield. The bearers were Messrs. Warren A., Charles A., Reuben B. and W. G. Sherburne. Burial was in the family lot in the Sherburne cemetery at Tyngsboro. The funeral arrangements were in charge of Mr. Jesse B. Butterfield, under the direction of Undertaker George W. Healey.

SHATTUCK—The funeral of Sewell Shattuck was held yesterday afternoon from his home, 102 First street, and was well attended. Rev. A. MacDonald officiated at the house and also read the committal service at the grave. The Mandelsohn quarter sang appropriate selections. There were many beautiful floral offerings, among which were the following: Large pillow inscribed "Father," from

IT'S ME FOR OLIVE TABLETS

That is the joyful cry of thousands since Dr. Edwards produced Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel.

Dr. Edwards, a practicing physician for 17 years and Calomel's old-time enemy, discovered the formula for Olive Tablets while treating patients for chronic constipation and torpid livers.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets do not contain calomel, but a healing, soothing laxative.

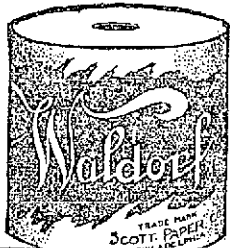

No griping is the "keynote" of these little sugar-coated tablets. They cause the bowels and liver to act normal. They never force them to unnatural action.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are so easy to take that children do not regard them as "medicine" at all.

If you have a "dark brown mouth" now and then—a bad breath—a dizziness—feeling—sick headache—torpid liver and constipated, you'll find quick, sure and only pleasant results from one or two little Olive Tablets at bedtime. They're perfectly harmless. Thousands take one every night just to keep right. Try them.

"Every little Olive Tablet has a movement all its own." 10c and 25c per box.

MILNE—The funeral of Mrs. Mary J. Milne took place Tuesday afternoon from her home, 2 rear of 649 Lakeview avenue. Services were conducted at the house and at the grave in the Edison cemetery by Rev. Samuel H. Jobe, curate of St. Anne's church. The bearers were John Higgins, John Sullivan, Joseph Dewall and Cornelius Sullivan. Among the floral offerings were a large pillow from the family. The funeral was in charge of Undertakers Charles H. Molloy & Sons.

BRADY—The funeral of the late

John B. Brady, a well known resident, took place this morning at 8:30 o'clock from the chapel of J. F. O'Donnell & Sons and was largely attended. The cortege proceeded to the Immaculate Conception church where at 9 o'clock a mass of requiem was sung by Rev. Denis Sullivan, O. M. I. The choir under the direction of Mr. Charles P. Smith sang the Gregorian mass, Mrs. Walker presiding at the organ. The bearers were John H. Burke, Thomas Golden, Henry Smith and John Kelley. At the grave Rev. Fr. Sullivan read the committal prayers and the burial was in St. Patrick's cemetery, in charge of Undertakers J. F. O'Donnell & Sons.

BEST PRICES

WERE ESTABLISHED SHORTLY BEFORE THE CLOSE

Speculation Was Buoyant in the Final Hour—The Market Closed Strong—Other Features of the Trading

NEW YORK, Nov. 6.—Moderate strength was shown by the stock market at today's opening with gains of a point or more in a number of the better known issues, particularly St. Paul, U. P., Canadian Pacific and Canadian.

The sugar stocks were again decidedly weak and steel, which opened with a block of 5000 shares at a price practically unchanged from Monday's close was inclined to react as was also Reading. Dealings were fairly large but without the excitement usual to the day following a national election.

Prices turned soon after the opening and initial gains were charged to losses in many cases. Aside from further weakness in sugar issues, Steel, Reading, Lehigh Valley and Northern Pacific fell a point.

The results of the presidential election seems to have left Wall street in some doubt, judging from the course of the market during the early hours of today's session. The opening prices showed marked advances in the speculative issues, thereby following the lead of London, but the first outburst was followed by heavy offerings, which soon wiped out most gains. Then came a renewed demand in smaller volume, which largely restored the earlier rise.

Beet Sugar, whose fortunes are linked with the tariff, added seven points to its recent decline, and American Sugar also fell. Money eased off to 5 per cent. Bonds were steady.

A vigorous movement in the speculative leaders led by Union Pacific resulted in a further advance of prices later in the day. The entire list was then at its best.

The market closed strong. Speculation was buoyant in the final hour and best prices were established shortly before the close.

NEW YORK, Nov. 6.—Albert Valda, of Dobbs Ferry, was arraigned before Police Justice Thornton in that village yesterday after he had held up Mrs. John Francis of Ardsley, in the outskirts of Dobbs Ferry.

Mrs. Francis was walking along a lonely road when a man leaped out from a clump of bushes and demanded her money. Mrs. Francis clung to the man as he struggled desperately to shake her off. Her screams brought Policeman Eaton to the scene.

NATIONAL ELECTION

m. returns from a portion of the state gave Wilson a slight lead.

The race in New Hampshire was so close as to make predictions of the result impossible. Taft and Wilson ran neck and neck throughout the night as the count progressed. Taft's lead varying from 12 to something over 100 and with many districts yet to be counted the electoral vote remained at issue between the democratic and republican candidates.

The Roosevelt victory in Illinois showed signs of being greatly reduced as the "down state" precincts came in during the early morning hours. Reports from Chicago indicated that the big lead held by Col. Roosevelt late last night gained chiefly through his large majority in Chicago and Cook county was being steadily reduced by the vote from democratic districts in the state at large, particularly in the southern counties. No efforts were made during the night to compile the popular vote for the presidential candidate. In the majority of states, however, the record vote was larger than at any previous presidential election.

Final returns on the actual number of ballots cast for the three candidates, is expected to exceed all records. The defeat of President Taft, the division of the republican vote between Taft and Roosevelt and the consequent division of republican organizations resulted in complete democratic victories in many states. In New York the democrats carried the state ticket and the legislature. In Illinois the democratic candidate for governor had apparently carried the state. Democratic senators appeared certain as successors to republicans from Colorado, New Jersey, Delaware, Montana and several other states.

A general increase in the socialist vote, polled by Eugene V. Debs, the presidential candidate, was accompanied by setbacks to the local socialist organizations in two of their strongholds. In Wisconsin, Congressman Berger, the only socialist in the house of representatives was defeated with a number of other officeholders and in Schenectady, N. Y. where the party had elected a complete local ticket at the last election practically all of its candidates were defeated.

President-elect Wilson will have behind him a greatly strengthened majority in the national house of representatives and the early returns the democrats apparently have a chance to secure control of the United States senate. In Illinois the progressives and socialists hold the balance of power in the legislature which is to select two senators; in Colorado, where two senators are to be chosen the democrats are in apparent control and in other states later returns may show a profit of the legislative power from republican to democratic hands.

Governor Wilson not only carried his own state, New Jersey, by a large majority but he carried also the states of his opponents, the state of his own running mate, Indiana, and the state of Col. Roosevelt's running mate, California. Control of the legislature in New Jersey assures to the democrats the choice of Governor Wilson's successor in the gubernatorial chair and the choice of William Hughes as senator to succeed Senator Briggs, republican.

The changes in the doubtful states, according to late returns, gave Mr. Taft four more electoral votes from Idaho and Mr. Wilson an equal number of electoral votes from New Hampshire.

While the apparent Roosevelt pluralities reported last evening are diminishing in Iowa and Illinois, the situation in Pennsylvania still shows some uncertainty, but with very strong probabilities that the state has been carried for Roosevelt by a plurality approximating 20,000.

In Iowa late returns from one-third of the precincts of the state indicate a Wilson victory by about 10,000.

Minnesota is still doubtful but incomplete returns showed that Wilson was leading Roosevelt by 4,000.

New Hampshire has moved from the list of doubtful states and will now give Wilson four more electoral votes. Returns from 270 out of 280 districts in the state give the successful democratic candidate a lead of 1570 votes over Taft. Idaho has gone to Taft by 8000 and the election of two republican senators is assured. This victory increases the total of Mr. Taft's electoral vote to 12, his other two states being Vermont and Utah, each with four electoral votes.

South Dakota was still uncertain at a late hour this morning. Returns from only half the precincts of the state had been received and these gave Roosevelt a lead over both Wilson and Taft.

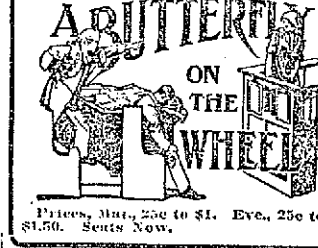

The first definite returns from Wyoming in early estimates very generally conceded to the republicans showed that Wilson had a slight lead over Taft.

with about one-fourth of the state heard from.

It Looks as if the Democrats Will Control Both Branches of Congress

SALEM, Nov. 6.—"If President Wood wants people to work in the mills let him send his daughters to work," were words attributed to Joseph J. Ettor, leader of the Lawrence textile strike, by Fred Tepper, a witness today in the Lopiz murder trial. Tepper said that Ettor and Arturo Giovannitti, who with Joseph Caruso

STATE OF IDAHO

Was Carried By President Taft by 8000 According to Today's Reports

BOISE, Idaho, Nov. 6.—Returns at 3 o'clock this morning show that Taft has carried the state by 8000 and that the legislature will be safely republican United States senators.

STATE OF OHIO

The Electoral Votes Will Go to Gov. Wilson—Returns From 2300 Precincts Give Him 176,622

CINCINNATI, O., Nov. 6.—All of Ohio's 24 electoral votes, all of the important state offices and all but two of three of its representatives in congress went into the democratic column yesterday's election. Returns from 2300 precincts gave Wilson, 176,622; Taft, 127,820; Roosevelt, 85,200. President Taft carried this, his home city, by a safe majority. Nicholas Longworth was re-elected by a small majority. The democrats will control the state legislature.

INDIANA BY 75,000

Governor Marshall's State Gave Sweeping Plurality for the Democratic Ticket

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Nov. 6.—With less than half of the precincts in the state reported early today giving the democratic national ticket a plurality of nearly 75,000 it appeared that the lead would be near the 100,000 mark by the time the total vote was counted. Roosevelt with nearly 100,000 votes is leading Taft by nearly 10,000. Samuel M. Halston, democrat, was elected governor. The general assembly will be democratic.

THE DEMOCRATS

Made Almost a Complete Sweep in Connecticut According to the Latest Reports

NEW HAVEN, Nov. 6.—The democratic sweep in Connecticut was almost complete, the only thing the republicans retained being a slight plurality in the house of representatives. Governor Wilson carried the state by a vote of 71,830 against 65,427 for President Taft and 23,364 for Col. Roosevelt. Governor Baldwin, democrat, was re-elected by a vote of about 55,423 to 65,073 for Herbert Knox Smith, progressive.

COL. ROOSEVELT

Appears to Have Secured the 38 Electoral Votes of the State of Pennsylvania

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 6.—Returns from more than half of the state show that Pennsylvania will cast her 35 electoral votes for Theodore Roosevelt. His plurality over Woodrow Wilson was $14,000 and the missing districts will no doubt increase his lead over his democratic opponent. President Taft carried Philadelphia by about 11,000 over Roosevelt but he ran far behind the colonel in the state. Roosevelt's plurality over Wilson in Philadelphia was 15,000.

NEW JERSEY

It is Estimated that Governor Wilson's Plurality in the State Will Reach Figure of 20,000

NEWARK, N. J., Nov. 6.—With half of New Jersey's vote uncounted at sunrise today Gov. Wilson was leading Roosevelt by nearly 20,000 votes and had beaten Taft approximately two to one. One congressman was apparently all that the republicans saved from the landslide indicated by the vote then counted. Wilson's plurality, it was indicated, probably will exceed 40,000.

STILL DOUBTFUL

Wilson is Leading in New Hampshire, But the Complete Returns Have Not Been Received

CONCORD, N. H., Nov. 6.—New Hampshire was still a doubtful state at 3 a. m. today. With returns from 230 precincts in the vote was: Wilson, 24,601; Taft, 23,878; Roosevelt, 13,033. The people failed to elect a governor by the necessary majority vote and the state's next chief executive will be chosen by the legislature. Concord is a United States senator, was claimed by both republicans and democrats and full returns are still lacking. The vote for governor from the same places reported for president was: Worcester, Rep., 23,650; Portland, Dem., 23,426; Churchill, Prog., 10,278.

GOV. WILSON

Says He Cannot Realize It is True That He Has Been Elected—Visitors Swarmed House

PRINCETON, N. J., Nov. 6.—"I can't realize that it's true," Woodrow Wilson, president-elect, was swarmed today by forenoon visitors who swarmed to his house for congratulations. There were many members of the Princeton faculty. "I can't realize that it's true," repeated the governor. "It hasn't quite dawned upon me. I had been in an impersonal atmosphere for the last three months reading about myself, reading that I was to be elected and now I can hardly believe that it's true."

STATE OF MAINE

Has Elected Democratic Presidential Electors for the First Time in Its History

PORTLAND, Me., Nov. 6.—For the #### first time in its history Maine will send six democratic members to the national electoral college, according to revised returns from yesterday's election. Presidential electors only were voted upon by the citizens.

Returns from all except 50 election precincts gave for president: Wilson, dem., 50,464; Roosevelt, prog., 43,102; Taft, rep., 26,195.

The total vote yesterday was the largest cast for more than 40 years, exceeding in 1880, the figures reaching 125,000.

TAFT WAS CHEERFUL

Will be Pleased to Ride With Wilson

CINCINNATI, O., Nov. 6.—In the moments when it became apparent that Gov. Wilson was going to sweep the country President Taft did not forget his philosophy and good humor. Here is a story of how the president looked at the situation just about that time, told by a friend today.

"I've got to find some comfort in this," the president is reported to have said. "I'll be very glad to ride down Pennsylvania avenue with Governor Wilson. It wouldn't have been easy if things had been different, but I would have taken the ride just the same."

The president was up early today. He took breakfast at the home of his brother and shortly before 10 o'clock started for the Cincinnati country club to play golf. He had intended to play yesterday, but the weather returns coming in rapidly today's game was arranged. The president leaves Cincinnati for Washington today.

MUST LIVE AT HOME

Wife Must Do That Or Else Lose Maintenance, Says Vice-Chancellor Garrison

NEW YORK, Nov. 6.—"Women are always trying to get maintenance and still live apart from their husbands, although the latter express a willingness to furnish a home," said Vice-Chancellor Garrison yesterday when Mrs. Henrietta Mattson started a suit for separation from her husband, James Mattson, of No. 313 Grove street, Jersey City.

After having lived apart from her for twelve years, Mattson says now that he will provide a home for her. Mrs. Mattson, through her attorney, said that she was ready to accept his offer, if her husband made it in good faith. The Mattsons were married in 1894 but after six years living together, they separated. Mattson sought to obtain a divorce several times, but was unsuccessful.

The vice-chancellor said that Mr. Mattson must now select several flats, from which his wife is to choose. If she finds one to suit her, he must take her there. If she refuses he has done his duty.

JOHN J. HOGAN

Has a Lead of 100 Votes Over Opponent With Four Towns to Be Heard From

John J. Hogan, in the contest for the governor's council, has yet four towns to hear from. The towns are Lincoln, Shorburn, Stowe, and Westford. Mr. Hogan started this from the fact that he had received thus far 100 estimates his vote at 100 more than that of Mr. Simpson.

NEW YORK, Nov. 6.—With an overwhelming democratic majority in the house of representatives, returns today indicate a probability of the success of a sufficient number of democratic senatorial candidates to give the democrats control of both branches of congress. There, however, still is sufficient uncertainty regarding the senate to make the situation indefinite.

The undecided character of the outlook concerning the senate is due to the fact that in order to outline definitely the prospect it is necessary to have returns on the legislature from the various states which, owing to the fact that the members of legislatures are counted among minor offices are generally among the last to be received.

In the present light 44 of the 96 members of the senate may be assigned definitely to the democrats. These are the 30 hold-over democrats, the five already elected from Alabama, Kentucky, Louisiana, Mississippi and Virginia, and the nine to be chosen from Arkansas, Delaware, Georgia, North Carolina, New Jersey, Oklahoma, South Carolina, Tennessee and Texas, in all of which states democratic legislatures are supposed to have been elected.

In order to insure the 49 votes necessary to control, there must be a further gain of five senators, all of which must come from states now represented in the senate by republicans, unless West Virginia be counted in the list. The chances are believed to be strongly favorable to the democrats in Colorado (in which state senators are to be chosen) and in Montana and more or less so in Kansas, Nebraska, Nevada and Oregon. Of these seven places still in doubt any five will give the 49 votes necessary to majority.

Should the democrats win the senate, the greatest surprise of the day came as a report from West Virginia of the probable turnover of that state from the democratic to the republican column. The effect of this change would be to retire Senator Watson. On the other side, the day's reports made sure of the triumph of the democratic legislature in New Jersey and the election to the senate of William Hughes as democratic colleague for Senator Martine. The present incumbent is Senator Briggs, one of the most trusted of President Taft's advisers.

Other returns of the day make sure of the return of the day make sure of the election of two republican senators to the senate of William Hughes as democratic colleague for Senator Martine. The present incumbent is Senator Briggs, one of the most trusted of President Taft's advisers.

The strengthening of the democratic house also marked the returns of several old line republican leaders who have been national figures for nearly a generation. The greatest interest attached to the result of Uncle Joe Cannon's district, which he has represented in the house 35 years.

THE STREET LIGHTING QUESTION

Was Taken Up at the Meeting of the Municipal Council This Afternoon

At a meeting of the municipal council held this afternoon the matter of street lighting, including the proposed white way, was taken up and action was deferred. The Lowell Gas Light Co. having asked for an extension of time in which to submit a proposition.

Mayor O'Donnell called to order at 2.25. The first business had to do with minor petitions which were properly referred.

The petition of the Patterson Rubber Co. for the extension of the sewer in Middlesex street was referred to Commissioner Brown.

William J. Cornier was appointed a constable and his bonds were accepted.

The claim of Patrick Thomas for personal injury was referred to the city solicitor.

Petitions of the Lowell Electric Light Corporation and the N. E. T. & L. Co. for pole relocations and wire attachments were referred to Commissioners Brown and Cummins.

Charles Stickney and the First Universalist church petitioned for removal of unused tracks in George and Hurd streets. The matter was referred to the city solicitor and Commissioner Brown.

The mayor read a communication from the board of railroad commissioners having to do with petitions of the Bay State Street railway for relocation of tracks in Middlesex street.

The Doherty Paving Co. of New York asked to be considered in proposals for street improvements in Lowell and the matter was referred to the commissioner of streets and highways.

The petition for the appointment of Sam Asquith as measurer of coal and other articles was read and the appointment was made.

Ald. Brown introduced an order for the appropriation of $2000 from the general treasury fund for street watering and on his motion the matter was laid on the table.

Frank Cadwallader speaking for "the Lowell Gas Light Co. relative to the municipal council's request for a statement from the company relative to the proposed white way, suggested that it would be well for the council to appoint a committee to go over the matter with the Gas company.

"In submitting a figure for street lighting you would want to know what you would be asked to burn?" queried Alderman Barrett.

"If you would want to know the kind of lights, the amount of light and the time that the lights would burn," said Mr. Cadwallader.

Mayor O'Donnell thought it would be well for the Gas company to prepare statements or propositions and present them to the council.

Mr. Cadwallader said his company was not prepared to submit any proposition at this time. He thought it would require about three weeks to look the matter up and prepare a proposition. On motion of Alderman Cummings the time was extended to Nov. 20.

While the matter of street watering was being discussed Alderman Barrett remarked that he had received many complaints relative to the increase in the cost of street watering and he wanted it distinctly understood, he said, that he had nothing whatever to do with the amount charged for street watering. The commissioner of streets and highways, he said was the man behind.

Mr. Hunsnewell of the Lowell Electric Light Company was present, having been requested to attend the meeting and he said he was ready and willing to answer any and all questions that the commissioners might see fit to ask.

In reply to Alderman Barrett, Mr. Hunsnewell said the ornamental lights demonstrated in Merrimack street are more expensive than arc lights.

The council adjourned until next Tuesday.

ALSTEAD, N. H., Nov. 6.—Frank Kilder, an insane man, shot and probably fatally wounded his aunt Miss Mary Richardson, injured Martin L. Richardson, his uncle, and committed suicide here today. Mr. Richardson, who was shot four times but not seriously hurt, was elected by the democratic party to the legislature yesterday.

Kilder, who was 40 years old, had been suffering from a mental trouble for some time and had but recently returned to his home from an asylum. Miss Richardson, who is 76 years old, was shot through the abdomen and the physician who attended her said there was little hope of her recovery. After shooting his aunt and uncle, Kilder committed suicide by sending a bullet through his brain.

What appeared to be a dangerous fire broke out in the basement of the furniture store at the corner of Aiken and Hall streets, conducted by the P. Z. Hebert estate, at 10.40 o'clock this morning, but the blaze was extinguished before much damage was done.

A Useless Run

A portion of the fire department was given a long run to the Boston road yesterday afternoon at 5.11 o'clock as a result of a telephone alarm sent in to the central fire station. When the firemen arrived there was no sign of a fire.

Auto On Fire

The members of Engine 4 were called to Dana's garage in East Merrimack street about seven o'clock this morning to extinguish a fire which started in Fred Coburn's automobile. The backfiring of the engine was responsible for the trouble.

Yesterday morning at about the same time and same place the firemen were called to extinguish the same kind of a fire in the same machine.

WILSON SENDS REPLIES

To Messages of Taft and Roosevelt

PRINCETON, N. J., Nov. 6.—President-elect Woodrow Wilson sent replies today to the congratulatory telegrams of President Taft and Col. Roosevelt and issued a statement in which he declared that "there is absolutely nothing for the honest and enlightened business men of the country to fear" from the democratic administration. To President Taft at Washington, President-elect Wilson sent the following telegram.

"I warmly appreciate your kind message and wish to express my sincere personal regards."

President-elect Wilson sent to Col. Roosevelt at Oyster Bay the following telegram:

"My sincerest thanks for your kind message. Pray accept my cordial good wishes."

President-elect Wilson made the following statement this afternoon:

"The result fills me with the hope that the thoughtful progress of the nation may now at last unite to give the country freedom of enterprise and a government released from all corporate and private influences, devoted to justice and progress. There is absolutely nothing for the honest and enlightened business men of the country to fear. No man whose business is conducted without violation of the rights of free competition and without private understanding and secret alliances, as violate the principle of our law and the policy of all wholesome commerce and enterprise, need fear either interference or embarrassment from the administration. Our hope and purpose is now to bring all the free forces of the nation into active and intelligent co-operation and to give to our prosperity a freshness and spirit and a confidence such as it has not had in our time."

"The responsibilities of the task are tremendous but they are common responsibilities which all leaders of action and opinion must share. And with the confidence of the people behind us, everything that is right is possible. My own ambition will be more than satisfied if I may be permitted to be the frank spokesman of the nation's thoughtful purposes in these great matters."

WOMEN OF SULTAN'S HOUSE

HOLD SENT TO BRUSA IN ASIA MINOR

SOFIA, Bulgaria, Nov. 6.—The Turkish bureau in Constantinople have been transferred to Brusa in Asia Minor.

An important local case, in which Henry J. Sullivan, a minor, through his father Frank J. Sullivan, is the plaintiff and Jesse J. Smith and Fred A. Buttrick, trustees of the estate of James K. Fellows, deceased, are the defendants, is being tried before Judge McLaughlin at the superior civil court session.

The case was opened late Monday afternoon, and the jury was then empaneled. Yesterday, there being no court session, the jurymen visited the scene of the accident.

At the opening of the court this morning, William H. Bent, counsel for the plaintiff, read his declarations, two separate declarations being included in the case. In the case of Sullivan vs. Smith, the plaintiff claims that as a result of negligence on the part of the defendant, through one of his agents, he was injured. The plaintiff claims that he was in the employ of the Gilbride company, and was engaged in carrying mattresses from the cellar with entrance to the alley in the rear of the store, through the passageway, to the front of the building. He charges that when he came out of the door, he had the mattress on his shoulder and head, and a wagon with two horses, and driver, the team the property of the defendant and the driver in his employ, was standing just at the entrance to the passageway. He claims that as he was suddenly started and came towards him at a fast clip, and that the driver lost control of the animals, and that he, in order that he would not be injured, backed up and fell into an open elevator well, sustaining serious injuries that caused him great suffering and expense. The ad damnum in this suit is $5000. The defendant is being represented by Attorney William H. Vincent of Boston.

In the second suit, that against Buttrick et als, the plaintiff claims that in a building over which the defendant has charge is located the elevator and well into which he fell, sustaining the injuries. The plaintiff charges that through the negligence of the defendant, in attempting to repairs on the elevator, the accident occurred. He alleges that the elevator is under his jurisdiction, owing to the fact, the plaintiff says, that he made repairs on the conveyance on other occasions. He further asserts that the elevator was equipped with an automatic device which closed when the elevator was above the first floor and opened when the elevator returned to the ground floor. He claims that the door was out of order, and that the elevator was up, and that there was no door or guard there at the time. He charges that upon seeing the horses, the property of Smith, coming toward him that he backed into the well, there being no protection, and that he fell to the bottom, a distance of 15 or 20 feet. He claims that he was exercising due care, and that the defendant was careless and negligent in not having a door or other rail there when the elevator was not being used on the ground floor. The plaintiff claims that his injuries were serious and caused him severe pain and expense, and that he was unable to return to his work for three months. The ad damnum in this suit is $10,000, with Frank E. Dunbar counsel for the defendant.

In both suits the defendants' answers are general denials to each and every allegation.

After the reading of the declarations, counsel for the plaintiff delivered his opening remarks and explained to the jury the location of the scene of the accident and other information. A plan of the location was exhibited in court. A large number of witnesses were then sworn, and the first witness called by the plaintiff was Richard Charlton, who drew the plans. Counsel questioned the witness relative to points on the map.

Counsel for Mr. Smith informed the court that the wagon mentioned in the case was outside the courthouse and suggested that the jury be allowed to view the room to inspect the wagon and take measurements. A short recess was then taken and the jurymen and attorneys in the case viewed the wagon.

Upon the resumption of the case the plaintiff was called. He was examined by Lawrence Bent and cross examined by counsel for the defendants.

The plaintiff was on the stand until 2.25 this afternoon, and then the young man, who was engaged in the same work as the plaintiff on the day of the accident, was called. He testified that he and the plaintiff were engaged in carrying mattresses from the shipping room to the front of the building and before the accident, had passed through the passageway, with other mattresses

THE DAHLGREN DIVORCE

Suit Will Be Heard in Secret

NEW YORK, Nov. 6.—The Dahlgren divorce suit is to be heard in secret referee's trial, the defendant, Eric B. Dahlgren, having consented to secrecy in the matter in order that the name of the other woman in the case need not be made public.

Though the other woman's identity has been zealously guarded, it is believed that she is a beautiful upper West Side resident and unmarried.

Mrs. Dahlgren is the daughter of the late Joseph Drexel, a former partner in the Drexel-Morgan banking firm, and from him she inherited several million dollars. Eric Dahlgren is the son of Rear-Admiral Dahlgren of Civil War fame, who made a large fortune by the invention of the Dahlgren gun.

Coming both to the prominence of the two concerned and to the hasty manner of serving the complaint last March, the document having been drawn in long hand by Judge W. M. K. O'Leary and filed before the ink was dry the public has been awaiting a public trial with acute curiosity.

The usual procedure in the case of the wealthy is for the two parties to the proceedings to ask for the appointment of a referee to hear the case in private, but until yesterday Mr. Dahlgren has steadfastly refused to give his consent, and Mrs. Dahlgren has therefore had application granted for a trial by jury.

The Dahlgrens have eight children, who are now with their mother at the home place at 812 Madison avenue. Mrs. Dahlgren has asked for permanent custody of them all, and the case is to be heard Nov. 7.

NAVAL SUPPLY THEFT

Big Seizure is Made at Chicago

CHICAGO, Nov. 6.—A carload of naval supplies said by the police to have been stolen from the Mare Island navy yard at San Francisco, valued at about $15,000, was seized by federal authorities in the Chicago, Burlington & Quincy railroad yards near Hawthorne, Ill., yesterday.

The supplies were seized on a writ issued by United States Judge Kene-saw M. Landis. The car was fitted to a smelting and refining company with a plant here.

Government investigators asserted that a band of thieves has been robbing United States naval yards of supplies aggregating several hundred thousand dollars. The government agents have been working for many months to discover shipments of stolen materials from several of the naval yards and it is believed further similar cases will be disclosed.

The carload seized here consisted of more than 50,000 pounds of copper and brass used in the construction of battleships.

The car was consigned to the smelting and refining company by a San Francisco agent.

MISS BATEMAN

To Lose Part of the $500,000 That Was Left to Her By Millionaire Winans Through a Ruling of Court

NEWPORT, Nov. 6.—Miss Dorothy Bateman of Newport, a young friend of Millionaire Ross Winans, through whose will she received a bequest of $500,000, is to lose part of the money left her through a ruling of the court by which the $500,000 left Mr. Winans' grandchildren is to be paid by a pro rata diminution of all money left legacies.

A counsel fee of $25,000 was allowed by the orphan's court yesterday to be divided between Maurice Leon, attorney for Prince De Beurn, guardian of the children, and the Baltimore law firm of Marbury, Goshell & Williams, this fee to be taken out of the $500,000 allowed the millionaire's grandchildren.

Thomas R. Winans, the son of the millionaire, who was cut off with a small part of the estate by the will of his father, is going to make a fight for a greater share.

COL. TEDDY ROOSEVELT

Sent Congratulations to Gov. Wilson

OYSTER BAY, N. Y., Nov. 6.—Shortly before midnight last night Col. Roosevelt made the following statement:

"The American people by a great plurality have decided in favor of Mr. Wilson and the democratic party. Little all good citizens I accept the result with entire good humor and contentment. As for the progressive cause, I can only repeat what I have already said so many times: The fate of the leader for the time being is of little consequence, but the cause itself must in the end triumph, for its triumph is essential to the well-being of the American people."

(Signed) "Theodore Roosevelt."

About the same time he issued his statement, Col. Roosevelt sent the following telegram to Gov. Wilson:

"The American people by a great plurality have conferred upon you the highest honor in their gift. I congratulate you thereon."

(Signed) "Theodore Roosevelt."

Miscellaneous Shower

A miscellaneous shower was given last night at the home of Miss Margaret Flynn, 169 Concord street, in honor of Miss Minnie Murphy, who is soon to become the bride of Michael Grady, a popular member of the South End baseball team.

During the evening an entertainment consisting of the following numbers was given: Piano solos by Miss Margaret Fitzgerald, Miss Kittle Wagoner and Miss Margaret Gloger; songs by Miss Maud Craven, Miss Nellie Flynn, Miss Elizabeth Sher and Miss Fred Lyons; recitations by Miss Mary Harold and a stump speech by Miss Clara Craven.

Refreshments were served and the guests departed at a late hour wishing the bride-to-be happiness and good luck.

102 Years Old

POTTSVILLE, Pa., Nov. 6.—Anthony Reitelberger, 102 years old, yesterday cast his 20th ballot for a president of the United States. He was taken to the polling place in an automobile, and helped into the booth where he voted a straight democratic ticket. He stood erect without a cane to be photographed, and reportedly said that it would be the last time he would vote.

The most miserable headache, dizziness, head and nose stuffed up, feverishness, sneezing, running of the nose, sore throat, mucous catarrhal discharges, soreness, stiffness, rheumatism, pains and other distress vanishes.

Take this wonderful Compound as directed, with the knowledge that there is nothing else in the world, which will cure your cold or end Grippe misery as promptly and without any other assistance or bad after-effects as a 25-cent package of Pape's Cold Compound, which any druggist can supply—contains no quinine—belongs in every home—accepts no substitute. Tastes nice—acts gently.

GIRL WAS ASSAULTED

Because She Refused to Strike

BOSTON, Nov. 6.—The first serious results of the industrial warfare which is being waged at the factory of Ullian, Levin & Karon, 41 Essex street, took place yesterday.

Kathleen Reese, who has refused to join the strikers, was set upon as she was leaving the factory door. Her hat was pulled off and she was pushed and struck. The girl attempted to escape and her retreat was cut off by men alleged to be connected with the Garment Workers' union.

She became hysterical and tottered into a nearby doorway, where the police came to her rescue. Yesterday the police were looking for the business agent of one of the local unions, who is said to have encouraged the assault.

Two men, giving the names of Sam Rosenthal and Bernard Fischer, were arrested on the Washington street bridge, near Castle street, yesterday, by Special Officer Henderson, charged with assault upon two of the factory employees while they were escorting girl strikers to their homes. Employees claiming to have been assaulted yesterday are Harry Ullian, Aaron Ullian, Benjamin Goodman, Wolf Bloom and James G. Hilton, the traveling salesman of the firm.

Harry Ullian declared yesterday that his firm refused to sign the union contract and that this precipitated the strike. He claims that there is no discrimination against union workers, that the pay is higher than in other garment factories and that the strikers will lose, as they have lost in the past, in calling out any of the workers during the past four weeks.

Women Workers in Utah

SALT LAKE CITY, Utah, Nov. 6.—That the women's vote would have an important bearing on the result in the state was indicated by the general activity of the women here yesterday. Women have voted in Utah since statehood, right of suffrage having been written in the constitution.

Women judges of election and half-dozen or more workers for each party at each district indicated this year a greater influence than ever in the past. The percentage of women voters in Utah has in the past been about 30 per cent, but this may be increased this year.

COL. ROOSEVELT

Boasts That He Has Wrecked the Republican Party—Says Progressives Will Control National Committee

NEW YORK, Nov. 6.—Theodore Roosevelt telephoned to friends in the Union league last night stating that he had practically annihilated the republican party, and the progressive party would be the party of the future and be in control of the national committee in 1916.

Also Colonel Roosevelt stated in the message that the progressives would be in control in New York state and would control the state convention of 1914.

NEW YORK'S BIG VOTE

Sulzer is Governor and House Democratic

NEW YORK, Nov. 6.—New York state cast its 45 electoral votes for Gov. Woodrow Wilson for president. Congressman William Sulzer was elected governor.

At 10.10 o'clock only about two-thirds of the up-state districts and about half of the city districts had been counted. Upon these returns republican Chairman Barnes conceded that Gov. Wilson had carried the state by about 100,000, while Democratic State Chairman Palmer claimed that Wilson would have a plurality of 250,000.

Gov.-elect Sulzer sent telegrams to Govs. Wilson and Marshall, the heads of the national ticket, extending best wishes and sincere congratulations. Commenting upon the result in the state, Mr. Sulzer said:

"This is a victory for the people and good government of course. I am grateful, but I realize the responsibilities entailed and now I want to see the democrats make good. The opportunity is theirs."

Up-state sent in the first returns and these quickly indicated that in republicans stronghold Wilson was leading, while the first returns from New York city showed a big plurality for him below the Bronx.

The city of New York with 37 election districts missing, gives the following vote for president:

Wilson, 205,283; Taft, 123,482; Roosevelt, 183,516.

Returns from 2275 election districts out of 3093 in New York state, outside of New York city, give:

Hedges, rep., 149,402; Sulzer, dem., 163,878; Strauss, prog., 34,123.

The same districts in 1910 gave Stinson, rep., 195,300; Dix, dem., 181,180.

The Borough of Richmond, complete gives Wilson 5443; Taft, 3036; Roosevelt, 3741.

In the 26th congressional district Edmond Platt, rep., is elected.

Early returns indicated almost to a certainty the election of a democratic assembly and senate. The democratic majority in the lower house probably will be very large. That in the senate doubtless will be increased over the working majority of eight by which the democrats have controlled the upper house during the past two years.

With the democratic party in the upper hand in the assembly there is likely to be a spirited contest for the speakership. The candidate most likely to win is Alfred E. Smith of the 2d New York district, democratic floor leader for the past two years.

The restoration of the assembly to democratic control appears on the early returns to have been accomplished by the overturning of republican strongholds, particularly in counties where the bull moose party drew strength from the republicans, splitting the latter party's vote almost in two. This applies also to the senatorial contests.

The political division of the present legislature is: Senate—Democrats, 24; Republicans, 21; Independence league, 1; total, 51; democratic majority, 8.

Assembly—Republicans, 101; democrats, 48; socialists, 1; total, 150; republican majority, 53.

A NOVEL PLAN

Of One-Room Schoolhouse Adopted by the Educational Officials in Illinois—Vigorous Campaign Waged

Labeling country schoolhouses so that every citizen may know whether his school is up to the standard is the device of the Illinois state school authorities, according to information received at the United States bureau of education.

The schools are inspected as to grounds, buildings, furnishings, heating, ventilation, library, water supply, sanitation and qualifications of the teacher. If the essentials of a good school are found present a diploma is granted the district and a plate is placed above the door of the schoolhouse designating it as a "Standard School." Upon fulfillment of certain further requirements a higher diploma will be issued and the plate will read "Superior School."

Already 667 of the 10,682 one-room schoolhouses in Illinois have earned the right to be called standard schools and to display the plate accordingly.

This interesting device is part of a vigorous campaign waged by the state of Illinois in behalf of rural schools. Two experts on rural education, U. J.

Hoffman and W. S. Booth, under the direction of Hon. F. C. Blair, state superintendent of public instruction, are devoting their entire time to the country and village schools.

Illinois does not merely ask that the schools be brought up to standard; the state tells how it can be done. In a bulletin sent to every teacher in the state the requirements for a standard school are set forth. Among the specifications are: An ample playground; good approaches to the school; convenient fuel houses; the buildings, sound, in good repair, and painted; improved heating arrangements—a jacketed stove in the corner of the room instead of an unprotected stove in the center; floor and interior of the building clean and tidy; suitable desks for children of all ages properly placed; a good collection of juvenile books, maps, and dictionaries; a sanitary water supply; the school well organized with regular attendance and at least seven months' schooling every year; the teacher must have not less than a high-school education, receive a salary of at least $360 per annum, and be ranked by the country superintendent as a good or superior teacher.

The more ambitious districts, aspiring to the "superior" diplomas, will have to meet the following additional requirements: A playground of at least one-half an acre, level, covered with good grass, and provided with trees and shrubs; sanitary drinking appliances; separate cloak rooms for boys and girls; room lighted from one side or from one end and rear; adjustable windows fitted with good shades; heat provided by basement or room furnace, with proper arrangements for removal of bad air and admission of pure air; at least eighty library books, ten suitable for each grade; two good pictures on the wall; provision for instruction in agriculture, manual training and domestic arts; the teacher to be a high-school graduate with normal-school training and to receive at least $450 per annum.

Roxbury Storage Salesrooms SELL TRUST PIANOS AT CUT PRICES ALL OVER THE U.S.

No matter where you live, no matter what kind of a piano you want, the Roxbury Storage Salesrooms will sell it to you. It's over seven years now since the arrogant Piano Trust told us that we must not cut the prices on their instruments. If we disobeyed the order of the Trust it would put us out of business. We laughed at the Trust and the fight followed. We matched our brains against the money of the Piano Trust and went into battle—a long, hard-cut and double-cut piano selling battle. The fight is still on and we are still selling the best Trust pianos, new, lower—must lower—than ever before.

SPECIAL NOTICE TO PIANO DEALERS! No pianos will be sold to dealers or makers for a less price than marked for public sale. Each piano is marked a selling price to cover expenses, and in no case can a maker or dealer get a lower price than an individual. This applies to a dealer's or manufacturer's own make or any other make.

Your old Piano, Organ, Phonograph, Typewriter, Furniture, Desks, Jewelry or anything else of value taken as part payment. Free Stool, Scarf and Tuning for two years with privilege of exchange any time.

We want you to know that we charge you no interest if you pay for your piano as you agree. In case of sickness or loss of work we do not look for payments. In case of death we give a clear bill of sale to relatives, no matter how little has been paid. We do everything within reason to have all our customers satisfied and we may say that we are here to stay.

THE GREAT DEMOCRATIC VICTORY

In Massachusetts Became More Apparent With Additional and Revised Returns

BOSTON, Nov. 6.—The magnitude of the democratic victory in Massachusetts yesterday for the leaders of the national and state tickets became more apparent today with additional and revised returns. Returns from 1073 out of 1102 voting precincts gave for president: Wilson, 165,364; Taft, 146,843; Roosevelt, 134,731.

The same precincts gave for governor: Foss, dem., 186,212; Walker, rep., 183,582; Bird, prog., 119,099.

The Massachusetts delegation to the lower branch of congress in 1913 will stand: Nine republicans and seven democrats. This is a net republican loss of one and a net gain of two for the democrats.

The republicans retained control of the state legislature gaining one seat in the senate and losing 12 seats in the house on a strict party alignment. On a joint ballot, however, the republicans will have a majority of 42, sufficient to elect a party successor to United States Senator Crane.

House will stand: Republicans, 137; democrats, 96; independent republican, 1; progressives, 5; democrat-republicans, 4; independent, 1; progressive republican, 3; republican-progressive, 1; socialist, 1.

The Massachusetts congressmen elected are:

First district—Allen Treadway, republican.

Second district—F. H. Gillette, republican.

Third district—William Wilder, republican.

Fourth district—Samuel Winslow, republican.

Fifth district—John J. Rogers, republican.

Sixth district—Augustus P. Gardner, republican.

Seventh district—Michael Phelan, democrat.

Eighth district—S. S. Dietrick, democrat.

Ninth district—E. W. Roberts, republican.

Tenth district—W. F. Murray, democrat.

Eleventh district—Andrew J. Peters, democrat.

Twelfth district—James M. Curley, democrat.

Thirteenth district—John W. Weeks, republican.

Fourteenth district—Edward Gilmore, democrat.

Fifteenth district—Wm. D. Greene, republican.

Sixteenth district—Thos. C. Thatcher, democrat.

OFFICERS WERE CHOSEN

By A. G. Pollard Mutual Benefit Association

The meeting hall of the Middlesex Women's club was last night the scene of a pretty gathering, the occasion being the observance of the ninth anniversary of the A. G. Pollard Co's Employees' Mutual Benefit Association. The affair was in the form of a business meeting, followed by a dainty banquet and a theatre party at Keith's theatre. The members of the firm were special guests at the banquet and theatre and Mr. A. G. Pollard showed his appreciation of the association by presenting a $100 check for its sinking fund. A feature of the business meeting was the election of officers for the ensuing year and the report of the president, which showed that the association is in good financial condition.

SHREWD BUYING

Keen Buyers Picking Up Some Great Plums at King's

Buyers who know clothing will tell you that the offerings at King's Great Money Raising Sale surpass in value any offerings of a similar price at any sale the city has seen in a long, long time.

King's, as you know, specializes in clothing of the medium and lower priced grades and this sale offers values in suits at $10 to $15 which are being picked by the score by those keen judges of clothing, of which Lowell has so many.

If the high cost of living has made itself felt with you, here is a chance to economize that you'll gladly welcome when you see the wonderful quality of the offerings at the prices quoted.

Young Men's and Boys' Clothing is reduced proportionately with the figures above. Come and see the great values.

and their invited guests, gathered in the quarters of the Middlesex Women's club, which had been provided gratis by the president of the club, Mrs. A. G. Pollard. The election of officers resulted as follows: James Richards, president; Arthur Leveille, vice president; Justin Kimball, treasurer; Rachel H. Monier, secretary; Edward Desrosiers, collector; Fred A. Dubois and Louise Gervais, auditors. After transacting considerable business concerning the association, the members took place around the festive board and partook of a dainty meal. This was followed by an entertainment program, including speeches by several members.

Past President Pearl Kenney acted as toastmaster and in his opening remarks he reviewed the work of the association since its inception nine years ago and also paid a tribute to Mr. Harry Dunlap, the initiator of the organization. He showed that the association is doing for its members by giving figures, showing that over $2800 have been paid in sick benefits since the organization was formed and for the present year $442.50 had been distributed to the sick members. The total collected for 10 cents per week from each member, and there is still a sinking fund of $648.36.

The toastmaster then complimented the new board of officers and extended the best wishes, and introduced Mr. A. G. Pollard, who at the eastern announced that he would give his check for $100, the said amount to be added to the sinking fund. The gift was greeted with prolonged applause and cheers. The speaker then told in behalf of Mrs. Pollard, who is in New York, that through her efforts the Middlesex Women's club had decided not to make any charges for the use of the hall and this announcement was also well received. Mr. Pollard in brief remarks then told his employees how he was pleased with such an organization and encouraged them to work even more than they have done in the past for the success of the association and promised his support at any time.

Others who spoke were the new board of officers, who all pledged themselves to concentrate their efforts and work in the interest of their association.

Miss Irene Parthenalis was the pianist during the entertainment and her selections were well received. Miss Hazel Chase was also very pleasing with her vocal selections and she was called to respond to many encores. A vote of thanks was extended the former officers and the party proceeded to Keith's theatre, where they spent the rest of the evening. The house was beautifully decorated for the occasion and the program was very well enjoyed. The invited guests occupied a box, while the new board of officers were seated in another.

INSPECTOR MURTHA

Had to Battle for His Life

NEW YORK, November 6.—John J. Murtha showed that he hadn't forgotten his "patrolman days" when, last night, out on an apparently "easy" job (which, by the way, he could have entrusted to any of his subordinates), he ran into the stiffest fight of his life, and saved that life only by that old patrolman's experience.

With a half-crazy colored man slashing at his throat with a razor—after wounding another colored man so that the latter is believed to be dying—Murtha managed to overpower the assailant, take the weapon from him and get him to a station house. The prisoner said he was Harry Mitchell, of No. 175 Lorimer street, and he was held to await the outcome of the injuries of his victim, Elijah Early, No. 92 Lorimer street.

Inspector Murtha wasn't looking for trouble. He merely wanted to arrest a man in Lorimer street suspected of selling cocaine. He was standing, as a tramp, outside a saloon in the neighborhood when the two negroes came out. He saw one of them attack the other with a razor and he walked right into the melee.

Card of Thanks

The undersigned, take this means of expressing their heartfelt thanks to their many friends and neighbors for the expressions of sympathy, kindly acts and the many beautiful floral offerings, received during the final illness and at the time of the death of Mrs. Bridget Callahan.

AMUSEMENT NOTES

Lowell Opera House

"The Wall Street Girl," by Bubbling

Blanche-Ring and company was at the Opera House last night and, despite the many counter attractions, including the election returns, there was a large audience. "The Wall Street Girl" is a very pleasing little play and those who saw it last night were delightened with it. Miss Ring has the brilliantest of the dialogue and sings the prettiest songs. She is quite charming of manner and she does not want for good support. Blanche is a bit of a tom-boy but she forgets her boyish pranks after meeting a girl rooter from the west. He certainly looks good to Blanche and she says to herself, "I'll get you yet," and when a little charmer starts after a six-footer she generally lands him, at least that is what happened to Blanche. William

P. Carleton was the westerner corralled by the erstwhile tom-boy and he is all right, too. Paul Porter, as the eccentric broker, figures prominently in the support of Miss Ring, but Blanche is the "big show" just the same. Her song hits included: "I Whistle It" and "Deedle-Dee-Dee."

ABORN GRAND OPERA CO.

The Aborn English Grand Opera company's performance on Friday, Nov.

5, at the Opera House will be occupied with "Lucia," a resplendently beautiful

"Madam Butterfly," one of the greatest compositions of all times and countries, and considered by many to be the most perfect specimen of grand opera composition, for it contains all of the technical and scientific qualities that command it to musical sciences of the highest order, while it combines with its scholarly orchestration those elements of musical beauty which appeal to the average ear that is unschooled in music.

"A BUTTERFLY ON THE WHEEL"

The two centers of the English speaking world—London and New York —have been the scenes of the triumphs of one of the most remarkable pieces of dramatic construction of modern times. The play is "A Butterfly on the Wheel." When the title is mentioned one is apt to observe, "Oh, that's the divorce play." So it is, but one might come to the conclusion that the play was written to teach a moral—a sort of theatrical preaching. That is exactly what "A Butterfly on the Wheel" is not, for it is a substantial, vivid drama which moves with a swift emotional force. The Lowell date for this play is Nov. 8.

"LITTLE BOY BLUE"

There will be considerable interest in the coming engagement of Henry W.

Savage's production of the boyous operetta "Little Boy Blue" which will be seen at the Opera House, Tuesday,

Nov. 12th following long runs in New York and Boston. "Little Boy Blue" was so much of a success in New York city when played at the Lyric theatre on 42nd street, that it was continued there for six months. Seats for the Lowell engagement go on sale Thursday morning.

Merrimack Square Theatre

One of the most highly and uniquely original vaudeville novelties presented for many a day is the bright little farce called "The Merry Men" which is appearing this week at the Merrimack. It's an amusing idea very well carried out and really worth the price of admission alone. Another pleasing feature to this week's program are The Full

Flops. This clever quartet of gymnasts perform many difficult and original tricks, one of which is really a thriller. Marion Kay, comedienne, and Boyd Rogers, comedian, are the other acts and the pictures are all good. It's a great show. See it.

Keith's Theatre

Bert Kelly, cartoonist, and Andrew

F. Levey, Dublin comedian, are the bravest spots on a breezy bill at the

Keith theatre, this week. Levey's drawing act is a comedy of the "The Merry

Men" which is a comedy of the "The

Monarch Comedy Four and Marie

Levy's Seminars are strong favorites.

Other acts are supplied by Gail Young and April, Alice DeGarmo, Barrett &

Bayne and Henry Horton & Co.

The Playhouse

Excellent opportunity is offered the members of The Drama Players to display their rare accomplishments as high-class entertainers in this week's offering at The Playhouse (formerly Halfway theatre) and that they are making the most of their opportunity goes without saying. "The Deep Purple" is a modern drama by Paul

Armstrong and Wilson Metzner, that has scored a wonderful success in all of the large theatrical centres of the country. It tells a most interesting story of the old "badger game" and is very cleverly woven about a little love story that combines in making it especially entertaining. The play is excellently staged. Matinee today and evening during the remainder of the week. On Monday night and Tuesday afternoon of next week beautiful autographed photographs of

Miss Constance Jackson will be given each lady occupying a reserved seat.

Be sure and attend next week and get the first of the set. Pictures of the entire company will be given out before the distribution is concluded. Get an entire set. Order your seats in advance. Telephone 811.

PRINCETON CELEBRATES

Great Rejoicing Over

Wilson's Victory

PRINCETON, N. J., Nov. 6.—"President Wilson." Two years ago this evening addressed Woodrow Wilson that way as the head of Princeton university. Today as crowds of students and townsfolk saluted the same man it was "President Wilson" again, but as the future president of the United States. The president-elect slept peacefully through the morning hours. He left word not to be disturbed until he had a long sleep. He planned to get up at noon. Early in the day, however,

Princeton began to celebrate the fact that its distinguished resident had been elected to the presidency of Princeton.

Members of the faculty of Princeton and residents of the town flocked to congratulate the Wilson household.

Messages of congratulation came

PARTY ENROLMENT

Hon. David I. Walsh made such a vigorous campaign against party enrolment as provided for in the Luce law that it is likely soon to be abolished as an unwarranted interference with the privacy which should be maintained in regard to the political affiliations of the individual voter. The time will come when the joint primary will be held without requiring any voter to declare his party preference. The only manner in which this can be done is that suggested by Mr. Walsh in which each voter would get the tickets of the several parties and then use the one he preferred, tearing up the others. Under that arrangement it would be impossible to determine one party from another except so far as they expressed themselves at public rallies or in conversation with their friends. We believe this in the long run would be a better arrangement than the present.

MOSELY COMMISSION REPORT

The Mosely commission sent from England to this country to study the industrial situation particularly in regard to the condition of working men has issued its report. Its conclusions as briefly outlined indicate that the commission finds the progress of American industries due to the superior intelligence and skill of the American workman. This conclusion is correct because it appears that an industry which secures the most skilled workmen or those which command the highest compensation can compete against the world without any tariff protection. This is demonstrated by the fact that the industries of this country which pay the highest wages have little or no protection and can defy competition from any other quarter of the globe. If the textile industries would reach this status they would probably see a new era of prosperity under which they would not need the protection which we believe to be an unnecessary adjunct of their existence at the present time.

TURKEY DRIVEN FROM EUROPE

It would seem that the Bulgarian forces are already butting down the forts that defend Constantinople. The series of battles by which the Bulgarian army made such rapid progress in taking one stronghold after another has few parallels in history. The carnage among the Turks is said to be astounding. Despatches state that in their panic they left 15,000 wounded men on the field. It appears that the Bulgarian artillery not only in range but in accuracy of aim is far superior to that of Turkey. In the utter defeat of the Turkish army there is an indirect inference as to the effectiveness of the German artillery as opposed to that of France. It is alleged that the Turkish army was trained by a German general and that the cannon used by the Turks was also of German make, while the Bulgarians used French guns and were trained by French artillery men.

The Balkan allies have already signified to the great powers their ability to settle their own affairs with Turkey. They intend to secure autonomy for Macedonia and Albania and to drive the Turk completely from the continent of Europe leaving, however, to the great powers the question of settling the status of Constantinople.

There is no unanimity among the great powers as to the plan of settlement between the Balkan allies and Turkey. France, Russia and Great Britain stand together upon what they believe should be done while Germany, Austria and Italy are on the other side with a different scheme as to an equitable settlement. It is probable, however, that the great powers will not offer any imperative objection to the wishes of the allies in controlling the territory they have gained by conquest or in driving Turkey out of Europe except so far as the city of Constantinople is concerned. The Balkan allies will hereafter constitute a new power in Europe and one which will have great weight in the councils of the nations. They have made it imperative upon geographers to change the map of Europe and place the Ottoman empire entirely in the Asiatic continent. That is a change over which all Christendom may well rejoice.

SCHOOL HYGIENE

Out in Minnesota the school children are required to answer a number of questions by the health inspector that to some may seem impertinent but that on the whole are entirely necessary. Among these are: Do you sleep with your bedroom window open at night? Do you eat breakfast every day? Do you drink tea or coffee? Have you a tooth brush? and various others. When children are required to answer these questions they very soon learn the reason why and by gradual steps they are led into the secrets of school hygiene. Some children, owing to the home arrangements as to meal time, have to jump from the table and run to school. If a child eats a hearty meal and enters school immediately he or she is not in a condition to study, for while the digestive process is actively going on in the stomach, the brain does not receive the supply of blood necessary for effective work.

It would seem that school physicians might accomplish much good among children by teaching them the art of deep breathing. This could be done in the open air and the practice once acquired would prove very useful to the children if carried out not only during the remainder of their school years but in after life. Children should be instructed as to the healthfulness of sunshine and fresh air, the danger of darkness, dampness and unsanitary conditions. Cleanliness of course should be inculcated from the beginning as one of the fundamental essentials of good health. It seems that many school inspectors do not pay sufficient attention to this matter, and it should be the duty of teachers to see that their pupils come to school with clean hands and faces, or at least with some indication that the matter of cleanliness has not been neglected. Children may not have good clothes but that does not prevent them from keeping clean. Soap and water are cheap and a great many people seem to underestimate the value of their frequent applications.

SWEEPING DEMOCRATIC VICTORY

As we predicted yesterday the democratic national ticket has swept the country and Wilson and Marshall have been elected by a majority that will certainly leave Roosevelt and Taft but an insignificant minority in the electoral college. The people of the country are to be congratulated upon this splendid result because it means the bringing about of important and much needed reforms for the whole people. As we have already stated the prospect of a democratic victory did not disturb the business interests of the country in the slightest degree nor will the realization of that victory result in anything except the utmost confidence that President Wilson will remedy the abuses of the high tariff and many other evils resulting from republican misrule.

The victory of Gov. Foss and Hon. David I. Walsh in Massachusetts is almost unprecedented. It is a tribute to the honesty and business ability of both men and we predict that the administration will justify the great confidence which the people have shown in them by the overwhelming vote.

The democratic victory so far as Lowell is concerned is not such as to call for any great jubilation, the defeat of Humphrey O'Sullivan for congress, Henry J. Draper for senator and Thomas Cuff for representative being among the reverses for which the democrats of Lowell have but themselves to blame. The congressional fight was vigorously fought out on both sides, but certain well known defections in the democratic ranks evidently resulted in Mr. O'Sullivan's defeat. He made a gallant fight, however, and his vote throughout the district is one of which he may well feel proud. Mr. Rogers is certainly to be congratulated upon such a signal victory.

It appears that in spite of democratic gains the state legislature will be republican by a slight majority, so that there is little or no hope of electing a democratic senator. Still, considering the victory from a national standpoint, it is one of the most important in a generation, and there is ample reason for rejoicing among all classes of people in the fact that in face of an impending crisis, the ship of state has been righted and started anew upon the course that will undoubtedly lead to the haven of prosperity.

Seen and Heard

"How easy it is to spoil a day! The thoughtless word of a cherished friend, The selfish act of a child at play, The strength of a will that will not bend, The slight of a comrade, the scorn of a foe, The smile that is full of bitter things— They all can tarnish its golden glow, And take the grace from its airy wings."

"Our characters are what we make them; our reputations rest altogether on the charity of our friends."

OLD LOVERS

Dim eyes peer out from golden case-ments where Flannys frequently a strand of silver hair, Bright shines the sun and sweet the meadows spread, And fair the sky that smiles above her head.

There, by the stream where bend the willows low, We started life—and 'twas not long ago; Ah! then the sun seemed harbored in her eyes, Amid their blue and tear-swept mysteries!

Her hands like soft magnolia petals were; Her breath like zephyrs half afraid to stir; Her lips with honey dropt; the jonquil's grace Was in her form, and love shone in her face.

She cried and trembled as I told her then I wanted her for wife (my sweet!) and when I kissed her and she kissed me, heaven seemed To lavish joys of paradise undreamed.

Heaven! They say we near it, for we're old; Her soft magnolia hand still wears the gold That pledged us through the paradise begun And knows no ending with the setting sun.

The violet depth has shadowed in her eye, The roses in her cheeks, perhaps a sigh Of mild regret has wilted, but her grace Of mind and soul illumine her dear face.

The meadows sweet and green turn brown and sere, Change and decay, life, death, spread everywhere, Save in the souls where sacredly is laid The echoes of a lover's serenade.

—John A. Morosa.

"Let no day pass without doing something just for your fellow beings. Life thus spent must have a glorious mouthful and glorified sunset."

"True bravery is shown by performing without witnesses what one might be capable of doing before all the world."

A deed was being drawn for a certain farmer to sign. All went smoothly until the law asked him his wife's name.

"O, yes, of course. My wife's name."

SUN ELECTION RETURNS

Very necessary, to be sure," said the farmer. It was plain to be seen that he was not prepared to answer. The blood rushed to his face, he looked troubled, and finally turned his back and looked out of the window. "What do you think of that?" he exclaimed, as he turned slowly around. "I simply cannot remember her name. You see, they used to call her Pet when she was a girl at home, and that was her name with me until two years after our marriage, when I began calling her 'Mother.' I could not tell you her name if it were a capital offense not to do so. Space it wouldn't do to call her Pet in the deed?" It would not do, so he hurried away, and in an hour came back with his wife's full name written on a slip of paper.

The Sun gave out the election returns last night under difficulties using the office of the Flowers Confection Co. and the bulletin room in front of the new Sun building in Merrimack square.

Through the courtesy of Walter Howe, the A. O. U. and the Boston Mutual Life Insurance company, the Sun canvass was spread upon the Howe building and the stenographer was located on the second floor of the new Sun building. The crowd that watched the returns on The Sun canvass was one of the largest ever seen in Merrimack square. At first the interest centered in the presidential contest and in the vote polled by the Taft and Roosevelt wings of the republican party, but later it shifted to that of governor of Massachusetts and then to the congressional contest. The result of this contest was uncertain until late in the night and even then all the returns had not been received but as Mr. Rogers was in the lead and only a few precincts, all republican, to be heard from it was clear that his victory was complete. The returns, owing to the additional counting, due to the presence of a third party, were later than usual in coming in, but they were nearly all cleared up by eleven o'clock, although it was after midnight when the last returns from the precincts reached city hall.

NORTH CHELMSFORD

Thomas Walsh, aged 22 years, met with a very painful accident yesterday afternoon, while motoring in North Chelmsford. He was going with a friend on a shooting trip, both riding on a motorcycle, and after making room for a passing team, the machine ran into a swamp, and threw both riders to the ground with great force. Walsh was thrown violently against a stone with the cycle on top of him, with the result that his left leg was broken just above the ankle. The injured man was hurried to his home on the Groton road, where he received the necessary medical assistance.

The thieves who have been operating in the town during the past two weeks added another victim to their list Saturday night, when they paid a visit to Mr. Perry's hen coop, on the Groton road, where he received the necessary medical assistance.

"Mothers' night" will be observed at the scout headquarters on the Groton road this evening, when the boys will entertain the mothers of the district who are interested in the movement.

THE SCHOOL COMMITTEE

Fixed the Pay of Evening High Teachers

The members of the school board held a meeting last night and voted to fix the pay of the evening high school teachers at $150 per night for the first year, and $2 per night for succeeding years, which is practically the same as in previous years.

The following opinion from the city solicitor relative to the claim of Edward Cawley against the city for coal furnished the school department, was read and signed by the members:

Lowell, Mass., Nov. 5, 1912. To the School Board of the City of Lowell.

Gentlemen—Edward Cawley has brought suit against the city of Lowell to recover the balance which he claims to be due him, under contract made with the city of Lowell to furnish coal, for eight hundred and seventy-three dollars and one cent ($873.01), and for interest on said amount.

This coal was delivered to the school department under a general contract made with the city of Lowell, June 1st, 1910, under which contract, it was stipulated that a certain standard of coal should be furnished according to specifications mentioned in said contract, and it was further stipulated that analyses should be made of said coal from all parts of shipments.

The city solicitor has carefully gone into this situation, and examined all the data connected with the case, and is of the opinion that Mr. Cawley can recover for the amount of money which he claims to be due him, for the reason that while the coal in question was delivered in the months of June and July, 1910, yet there was never any analysis made of the coal until the following November, and that said analysis was not made in conformity with the recognized standard of making analyses.

The city solicitor, therefore, recommends that he be given authority to sign an agreement for judgment for the amount, with interest thereon, claimed by Mr. Cawley, and respectfully requests the approval of your honor, the school department, has received and used this coal, and in the judgment of the city solicitor, the same should be paid for.

I, herewith, send copy of this recommendation that you may place it on the files of your department.

Respectfully,

J. Joseph Hennessy, City Solicitor.

Lowell, Mass., Nov. 5, 1912.

To J. Joseph Hennessy, City Solicitor of the City of Lowell.

The above recommendation is hereby approved by the school board of the city of Lowell.

(Signed)

School Board of the City of Lowell.

TRAGEDY OF THE SEA

Told By Finding of an Overturned Dory

BOSTON, Nov. 6.—The steam trawler "Foam" brought to port yesterday news of a sea tragedy disclosed by the finding in South channel of an overturned dory, tied to a fishing buoy. Captain Ralph Thomas of the Foam stated that the dory bore no marks of identification other than the figures "14" painted on either side of the bow. Circumstances seemed to indicate, he said, that the fisherman had been hauling or setting his trawl when a heavy sea caused his craft to turn turtle. The number indicates the position of the dory on some fishing schooner, but no vessel now in port has lost a boat of that description.

ADMITS SETTING FIRE

In Which Three Lives Were Lost

ST. LOUIS, Mo., Nov. 6.—Miss Barbara Arnold, an 18-year-old nurse girl, was arrested yesterday and charged with having set fire last Friday night to the Berlin hotel in which three persons lost their lives. According to the police she confessed that she started the fire for the "love of excitement."

Her arrest followed the discovery of a fire in the Windemere hotel early yesterday. Her employer, Rev. W. J. Williamson, had moved his family and the girl to the Windemere after the Berlin hotel was destroyed.

The girl said, according to the police, that she fired the Berlin by scattering paper through the halls of the second and third floors and lighting them.

The girl later made a written confession in which she said her name was Barbara Gladys Arnold. She confessed that she started a fire in the Windemere by throwing a lighted towel over the transom of her room. The flames were extinguished by Mrs. Williamson, whose husband later called the police.

Finger Lacerated

Patrick Boyle, aged 17 years, residing at 70 Union street, sustained a laceration of the index finger of his right hand late yesterday afternoon while at work at the Bagshaw Machine Co. The ambulance was summoned and the young man was taken to the Lowell hospital, where he received treatment.

Mr. and Mrs. Rust have moved from the Chandler estate to a new house built by Mr. Pierce on Maine street.

Mr. and Mrs. John Small who have been the guests of Mr. and Mrs. James Everett, have returned to their home in Connecticut.

Mr. Thomas Whitworth, who has been on a business trip to England and Antwerp, is expected to reach here on Monday.

Miss Theresa Small has returned to her home in this village after a short visit in Quincy.

The many friends of N. W. Scott, chief engineer at the State hospital, will be pleased to learn that he is well on the road to recovery from his recent severe illness.

Several men are now at work repairing the tracks on Main street of the Bay State Street Railway Co. The rails which were loose are being tightened with new spikes and bolts.

People traveling from Salem, Peabody and other points on that line find it much better to leave the train at Tewksbury and journey by electric to Lowell. Many who wish to go directly to Merrimack square take this means.

Residents of the town report a very heavy frost on last Monday morning and in many places the milk was frozen. This is the first manifestation of the approaching cold weather. In spite of the departure of the summer, the lawns of the village in many cases retain their rich green color as though the frosts had no power to injure them.

The principal sport in the vicinity of the town at present is fox hunting and there are many who take this manner of enjoying an outing. The hunters in the area are some very valuable breeds of the latter about the village. Foxes seem to be quite numerous judging from the reports of those who have been in the woods, and several have reported success in the chase. Mr. Stephen Smith, the other morning and said that he had wounded another. Many pheasants are seen, but must remain unharmed as they are protected by law. One man stated that he saw a flock of about 30 in an open field. These birds are causing the farmers in this district some little bother and are apt to cause considerable damage to crops unless measures are taken to prevent this.

The feature of this year's harvest is the large apple crop which many of the farmers enjoyed. Great quantities of the fruit are being shipped to Boston where the principal market is located.

Word has been received in the village by friends of Mrs. Emily Foster, who went last spring to visit her son in Alberta, Cal., that she is enjoying good health. Since leaving Tewksbury, Mrs. Foster has toured a large portion of the South.

Mr. and Mrs. John Small who have been the guests of Mr. and Mrs. James Everett, have returned to their home in Connecticut.

Mr. Thomas Whitworth, who has been on a business trip to England and Antwerp, is expected to reach here on Monday.

Miss Theresa Small has returned to her home in this village after a short visit in Quincy.

The many friends of N. W. Scott, chief engineer at the State hospital, will be pleased to learn that he is well on the road to recovery from his recent severe illness.

Several men are now at work repairing the tracks on Main street of the Bay State Street Railway Co. The rails which were loose are being tightened with new spikes and bolts.

People traveling from Salem, Peabody and other points on that line find it much better to leave the train at Tewksbury and journey by electric to Lowell. Many who wish to go directly to Merrimack square take this means.

Residents of the town report a very heavy frost on last Monday morning and in many places the milk was frozen. This is the first manifestation of the approaching cold weather. In spite of the departure of the summer, the lawns of the village in many cases retain their rich green color as though the frosts had no power to injure them.

The principal sport in the vicinity of the town at present is fox hunting and there are many who take this manner of enjoying an outing. The hunters in the area are some very valuable breeds of the latter about the village. Foxes seem to be quite numerous judging from the reports of those who have been in the woods, and several have reported success in the chase. Mr. Stephen Smith, the other morning and said that he had wounded another. Many pheasants are seen, but must remain unharmed as they are protected by law. One man stated that he saw a flock of about 30 in an open field. These birds are causing the farmers in this district some little bother and are apt to cause considerable damage to crops unless measures are taken to prevent this.

NEW YORK, Nov. 6.—Boxer, waste wood and other inflammable material gathered during the last two weeks by Hyman Goldstein, 19 years old, of No. 121 St. Mark's place, in the celebration of the election may cause his death. In protecting his treasured hoard from invaders scouting for bonfire material, Goldstein was shot in the neck yesterday afternoon and is in Bellevue hospital in a serious condition.

Goldstein and his friends had stored the material in the rear of Goldstein's home. While Goldstein and ten of his friends were arranging the material for the easiest method of transportation one of the party let out a shout. Two strangers were in the lower part of the yard tossing boxes into the street. Goldstein and his friends started after the intruders. The invaders shouted for help and about 13 other young men sealed the fence and gave light.

Despite the fact that they were outnumbered two to one, Goldstein and his friends drove the intruders over the fence and into the street. Suddenly a revolver shot was heard and Goldstein pitched forward on his face. Consternation reigned. The intruders scattered, while Goldstein's friends, equally frightened, ran and left their fallen chief lying in the street.

Patrolman Douglas, on election duty at 418th street and Avenue A heard the shot and had Goldstein removed to the hospital.
